A Modest Proposal Questions On Rhetoric And Style:

A Modest Proposal in the Context of Swift's Irish Tracts Maria-Angeles Ruiz Moneva, 2020-06-12 Swift's A Modest Proposal has always aroused the interest not just of literary critics but also of linguists and pragmatists. Within the latter approaches the study of irony and more concretely the intentions and attitudes that must have guided the production of such an intricate work have always been paramount. However, it seems that within pragmatics the analysis has been restricted so far to the 1729 work itself. In the present author's view it is interesting to contextualise this masterpiece of irony and satire within Swift's wider writing on Ireland, an approach that remains to be carried out. Accordingly, this work sets out to analyse a selection of Swift's Irish Tracts with a view to tracing the evolution within Swift's literary production of his views and attitudes towards the situation of his homeland. Although different pragmatic approaches are applied, the emphasis is laid upon the contributions that the relevance theoretical framework and its studies on irony may bring to the understanding of this particular Tract. The works selected are meant to cover and also be representative of the main phases currently distinguished within Swift's writing on the Irish Question. It is therefore hoped that a deeper analysis of the former works by Swift on this topic will provide new insights for a better understanding of A Modest Proposal. Rhetoric for Academic Reasoning

L. Bense-Meyers, 1992 Diachronic Developments in English News Discourse Minna Palander-Collin, Maura Ratia, Irma Taavitsainen, 2017-08-15 The history of English news discourse is characterised by intriguing multilevel developments and the present cannot be separated from them. For example, audience engagement is by no means an invention of the digital age. This collection highlights major topics that range from newspaper genres like sports reports, advertisements and comic strips to a variety of news practices. All contributions view news discourse in a specific historical period or across time and relate language features to their sociohistorical contexts and changing ideologies. The varying needs and expectations of the newspaper producers, writers and readers, and even news agents, are taken into account. The articles use interdisciplinary study methods and move at interfaces between sociolinguistics, journalism, semiotics, literary theory, critical discourse analysis, pragmatics and sociology. Literature Criticism from 1400 to 1800, 2004

Kierkegaard on Faith and the Self C. Stephen Evans, 2006 Evans makes a strong case that Kierkegaard has something crucial to say to the Christian church as a philosopher and something equally crucial to say to the philosophical world as a Christian believer. Corns, 2022-11-30 First published in 1987, The Literature of Controversy is a collection of essays by scholars from Britain, the United States and Australia on major works from a classic epoch of English controversial prose. Each essay engages a single text or series of texts less to discuss the ideas and arguments per se than to consider the rhetorical techniques assumed for the political manipulation of the readers. Though emphasis varies from contribution to contribution, the purpose broadly is to explore how the constituents of those texts are organised to coax cajole persuade or inspire those to whom they address As the editor argues in his introduction this approach the critique of polemical strategy for the most part accepts the validity of paying regard to the author and his intentions it engages questions about the responses of the readership at which the texts were targeted and it proceeds intertextuality in its attempts to reconstruct the controversies in which the texts were embedded and the codes within which they operated This book will be of interest to students of literature rhetoric and history     Reading for Rhetoric Caroline Shrodes, Clifford Anthon Josephson, 1962     Style and Subject Louise Elizabeth Rorabacher, 1966

Composition/rhetoric W. Ross Winterowd, 1986 In this eclectic selection of 27 essays Winterowd presents a comprehensive and up to date discussion of the theory and practice of composition Winterowd relates composition to the fields of literacy and rhetoric moving easily between topics as diverse as brain theory and stylistics The essays blend the speculative with the specific the abstract with the actual as Winterowd seeks a balance between theory and application The book is divided into two sections Part I The Field of Composition Rhetoric constitutes a state of the art essay on composition Part 2 Essays on Composition Rhetoric develops the themes introduced in the first part     The Research Process in Educational Settings Robert G. Burgess, 2011-12-08 This book presents a series of research biographies based on research experiences in the study of educational settings The main aim is to provide a set of first person accounts on doing research that combine analysis with description The contributors have been drawn from the disciplines of sociology and educational studies and have all conducted ethnographic work or case studies in a variety of educational settings     Writing with a Thesis David Skwire, 1979     Context Counts Robin Tolmach Lakoff, 2017-02-24 Context Counts assembles for the first time the work of pre eminent linguist Robin Tolmach Lakoff A career that spans some forty years Lakoff remains one of the most influential linguists of the 20th century The early papers show the genesis of Lakoff s inquiry into the relationship of language and social power ideas later codified in the groundbreaking Language and Woman s Place and Talking Power The late papers reflect her continued exposition of power dynamics beyond gender that are established and represented in language This volume offers a retrospective analysis of Lakoff s work with each paper preceded by an introduction from a prominent linguist in the field including both contemporaries and students of Lakoff s work and further Lakoff s own conversation with these responses This engaging and at times moving reevaluation pays homage to Lakoff s far reaching influence upon linguistics while also serving as an unusual form of autobiography revealing the decades long evolution of a scholarly career     Technical Communication. Perspectives for the Eighties, Part 2, 1981     Research in Composition and Rhetoric Michael G. Moran, Ronald Lunsford, 1984-11-20 This anthology focuses on the writing process itself and on fundamentals of compositional theory Essays explore the psychology of composition research on writing anxiety the relationship of literary theory to composition and reading theory as it relates to the composing process The historical development of research methodologies in the field is examined with particular emphasis on evaluation methods and construction of effective writing sequences and assignments With recent educational trends toward basic writing even teachers of the most advanced composition classes will welcome the contributions on sentence structure spelling punctuation paragraphs and vocabulary development The essays that place composition within larger intellectual traditions will be particularly valuable to scholars currently extending their research into other disciplines Two appendixes on text books and evaluation are designed to help composition educators and scholars select useful innovative texts and handbooks
