Euripides

Bacchae Hackett Classics:

Bacchae Euripides, Paul Woodruff, 1998-09-15 Woodruff's translation is clear, fluent, and vigorous, well thought out, readable, and forceful. The rhythms are right, ever present but not too insistent or obvious. It can be spoken instead of read and so is viable as an acting version, and it keeps the lines of the plot well focused. The Introduction offers a good survey of critical approaches. The notes at the foot of the page are suitably brief and nonintrusive and give basic information for the non-specialist. Charles Segal, Harvard University

Electra, Phoenician Women, Bacchae, Iphigenia at Aulis Euripides, 2011 Cecelia Eaton Luschnig's previously published translations of Euripides' Electra from The Electra Plays (Hackett, 2009) coupled with her new translations of Phoenician Women and Iphigenia at Aulis appear in this volume alongside Paul Woodruff's translation of Bacchae. Hackett 1998: four widely studied examples of the playwright's stagecraft in highly accurate yet readable and performable annotated verse translations

Electra, Phoenician Women, Bacchae, and Iphigenia at Aulis Euripides, 2011-03-15 The four late plays of Euripides collected here in beautifully crafted translations by Cecelia Eaton Luschnig and Paul Woodruff offer a faithful and dynamic representation of the playwright's mature vision

Cygnifiliana Roy Arthur Swanson, 2005 In the course of an academic career spanning five decades, Professor Roy Arthur Swanson established himself as an internationally recognized scholar and outstanding teacher in Classics and literary studies. He is the author of five books and the co-author of three books and has been active as an editor and contributor of articles and reviews to scholarly publications. Twelve former students, colleagues, and friends have contributed papers in honor of Professor Swanson's seventy-fifth birthday. These papers all touch on subjects close to his heart, ranging from Greek, Roman, Italian, Scandinavian, and German literary studies to modern pop culture

Aristotle and Tragic Temporality Sean D. Kirkland, 2025 Aristotle and Tragic Temporality treats a theme that has drawn scholarly attention for millennia: Aristotle on time and our experience of it. It does so, however, in a wholly unprecedented way, grounding its interpretation in his Poetics and Ethics rather than the natural philosophy of the Physics. Sean D. Kirkland first takes up Aristotle's discussion of our tragic temporal situatedness: our having to act, think, and live always between a determining past we can never fully master and a projected future we can never fully anticipate. It is this condition that comes powerfully to light for Aristotle on stage in the performance of a tragic drama. The familiar Aristotelian virtue ethics then becomes something radically new in the transforming light of the Poetics' temporality: an outline of how humans can inhabit that irremediably tragic condition, never overcoming or suspending it, and arrive nonetheless at something like happiness and excellence

Echoes of Antiquity Coyle Neal, 2025-02-15 Echoes of Antiquity: Hellenistic Thought in a Politically Changing World invites readers to explore the profound philosophical schools of the Hellenistic era. It delves into the thought of the Skeptics, Cynics, Epicureans, and Stoics, revealing how their unique perspectives pursue a fulfilling life and deeper understanding of the world. This book not only sheds light on the historical context of these philosophies but also connects them to modern thinkers and contemporary challenges Each chapter serves as a guide through the complexities of Hellenistic thought encouraging readers to consider why the varieties of ancient wisdom still matter today Echoes of Antiquity Hellenistic Thought in a Politically Changing World will guide the reader in understanding how the philosophers who lived between the times of Aristotle and Augustine attempted to make sense of their world and pointed towards pathways to a good and happy life that continue to endure Ulysses in Black Patrice D.
