Bodily Natures Science Environment And The Material Self:

Bodily Natures Stacy Alaimo, 2010-10-25 How do we understand the agency and significance of material forces and their interface with human bodies What does it mean to be human in these times with bodies that are inextricably interconnected with our physical world Bodily Natures considers these questions by grappling with powerful and pervasive material forces and their increasingly harmful effects on the human body Drawing on feminist theory environmental studies and the sciences Stacy Alaimo focuses on trans corporeality or movement across bodies and nature which has profoundly altered our sense of self By looking at a broad range of creative and philosophical writings Alaimo illuminates how science politics and culture collide while considering the closeness of the human body to the environment New Feminist

Perspectives on Embodiment Clara Fischer, Luna Dolezal, 2018-02-16 Despite several decades of feminist activism and scholarship women's bodies continue to be sites of control and contention both materially and symbolically Issues such as reproductive technologies sexual violence objectification motherhood and sex trafficking among others constitute ongoing pressing concerns for women's bodies in our contemporary milieu arguably exacerbated in a neoliberal world where bodies are instrumentalized as sites of human capital This book engages with these themes by building on the strong tradition of feminist thought focused on women's bodies and by making novel contributions that reflect feminists concerns both theoretically and empirically about gender and embodiment in the present context and beyond The collection brings together essays from a variety of feminist scholars who deploy diverse theoretical approaches including phenomenology pragmatism and new materialisms in order to examine philosophically the question of the current status of gendered bodies through cutting edge feminist theory Fear and Nature Christy Tidwell, Carter Soles, 2021-05-10 Ecohorror represents human fears about the natural world killer plants and animals catastrophic weather events and disquieting encounters with the nonhuman Its portrayals of animals the environment and even scientists build on popular conceptions of zoology ecology and the scientific process As such ecohorror is a genre uniquely situated to address life art and the dangers of scientific knowledge in the Anthropocene Featuring new readings of the genre Fear and Nature brings ecohorror texts and theories into conversation with other critical discourses The chapters cover a variety of media forms from literature and short fiction to manga poetry television and film The chronological range is equally varied beginning in the nineteenth century with the work of Edgar Allan Poe and finishing in the twenty first with Stephen King and Guillermo del Toro This range highlights the significance of ecohorror as a mode In their analyses the contributors make explicit connections across chapters question the limits of the genre and address the ways in which our fears about nature intersect with those we hold about the racial animal and bodily other A foundational text this volume will appeal to specialists in horror studies Gothic studies the environmental humanities and ecocriticism In addition to the editors the contributors include Kristen Angierski Bridgitte Barclay Marisol Cortez Chelsea Davis Joseph K Heumann Dawn Keetley Ashley Kniss Robin L Murray Brittany R Roberts Sharon Sharp and

With(Out) Trace: Interdisciplinary Investigations into Time, Space and the Body Simon Dwyer, Rachel Franks, Reina Green, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2015 This book With out Trace Inter Disciplinary Investigations into Time Space and the Body unpacks many of the issues that surround the idea of trace what we intentionally an unintentionally leave behind as well as how trace can help us to move forward In particular this volume looks at how an inter disciplinary approach can suggest new ways of seeing and subsequently exploring interconnections between time space and the body The papers within this work accomplish more than tracing a theme a theory or discipline within the study of time space and the body Moreover the collection does not simply trace past debates about the relationship between the three Indeed the interdisciplinarity of this collection will it is hoped suggest other ways of seeing the field and of tracing new paths through it Exploring those new perspectives and new paths will undoubtedly enrich future thinking about the interconnections between time space and the body

Environmental Humanities Serpil Oppermann, Serenella

Iovino, 2016-11-30 This important volume brings together scientific cultural literary historical and philosophical perspectives to offer new understandings of the critical issues of our ecological present and new models for the creation of alternative ecological futures At a time when the narrative and theoretical threads of the environmental humanities are more entwined than ever with the scientific ethical and political challenges of the global ecological crisis this volume invites us to rethink the Anthropocene the posthuman and the environmental from various cross disciplinary viewpoints The book enriches the environmental debate with new conceptual tools and revitalizes thematic and methodological collaborations in the trajectory of ecocriticism and the environmental humanities Alliances between the humanities and the social and natural sciences are vital in addressing and finding viable solutions to our planetary predicaments Drawing on cutting edge studies in all the major fields of the eco cultural debate the chapters in this book build a creative critical discourse that explores challenges and enhances the field of environmental humanities

Feminists Researching Gendered Childhoods Jayne

Osgood, Kerry H. Robinson, 2019-02-21 Feminists Researching Gendered Childhoods charts the evolving nature of feminist theory and research methods in childhood studies and the generative potential this holds for researchers academics and educators to continue to push ideas and practices The book traces the threads of affect and effect that feminist theories and methodologies have made over time to thinking more and differently about gender in childhood In the wake of the new materialist turn in feminist research the book sought to address two pressing questions what is especially new about feminist new materialism and what is especially feminist about feminist new materialism These questions are generative troubling unsettling and invited the contributors on an adventure that involved re turning and reconfiguring ideas and practices about gender and childhood Along with the editors Jayne Osgood UK and Kerry H Robinson Australia five key international feminist scholars Mindy Blaise Australia Bronwyn Davies Australia Debbie Epstein UK Jen Lyttleton Smith UK and Veronica Pacini Ketchabaw Canada collaborated on this book project Their reflective accounts capture the contribution of their own work and that of their peers to advancing research practices and theorisations of gender in childhood Having all approached the study of gendered childhoods in creative and critical ways these important feminist researchers re engage and critically reflect on their earlier work alongside their more contemporary contributions to the field The book is as much about the processes involved in its creation as it about the material digital end product The chapters work with both familiar and unfamiliar feminist methodological frameworks that bring affect materiality and embodiment as well as textual representations of gender and childhood into play The book engages with and generates artwork poetry photographs as a means to grapple with how gender childhood family curriculum and policy have been and might be researched The book captures a lively collaborative feminist experiment that sought to make space for fresh conceptualisations of gender in childhood Issues addressed include social justice and transformative methodologies in childhood research advancing theoretical perspectives that contribute to fresh understandings of gender in young children s lives the ways that research into gender in childhood play out in educational agendas and the specific gender issues perceived critical to address in contemporary childhoods lived in the post Anthropocene Transatlantic Landscapes José Manuel Marrero Henríquez,2016 Enacting Nature Birgit Däwes,Marc Maufort,2014 This volume explores the multi faceted semantics of ecology in contemporary Indigenous theater and performance It focuses on the ways in which Indigenous playwrights from North America and Oceania depict the human link with Nature in today s global age The Concord Saunterer ,2013 Monatshefte ,2019 The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman,James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly,Gustavus Watts Cunningham,2011 An international journal of general philosophy Feminist Studies ,2013 Wordsworth and the Green Romantics Lisa Ottum,Seth T.
