made my first cyanotype in 1999 I was intrigued by the blue images and wanted to test the cyanotype process to see what it had to offer I bought chemicals and spent an evening coating paper and cloth The results of the next day's printing surprised me Although the alchemy of the darkroom had always captivated me developing a print in the sun was like a liberation One of the things I found most refreshing about the process was the unpredictability of the results Some of my best prints were the product of happy accidents The developing process is straightforward The chemicals are cheap and most of the other items used can be found around the house Pre coated paper is available but one of the benefits of working with cyanotypes is the great flexibility of material and paper available to you Cyanotypes print on anything made of natural fibre Cotton linen silk handmade paper watercolor paper and rags are just number of alternatives Some artists even print on wood So if you want to explore a fun alternative photographic process or seriously want to experiment with producing unique fine art make a cyanotype
