Breath Of Life A Theology Of The Creator Spirit:

Breath of Life Edwards, Denis, 2014-04-10 Offers a theological narrative of the Creator Spirit as a story with four continuing episodes creation grace the Christ event and the church Breath of Life Denis Edwards, 2004 Creator Spirit begins not with Pentecost but with the origin of the universe as much as fifteen billion years ago Edwards constructs a contemporary theology of the Spirit on foundations laid by Basil of Caesarea in the fourth century This enables him to go behind later divisions between East and West on Trinitarian theology to retrieve Basil's theology as the common heritage of both Latin and Greek Christianity The book sketches a theological narrative of the Creator Spirit as a story with four great episodes creation grace the Christ event and the church He recovers the radical narrative and event character of the Biblical notion of truth and presents the Creator Spirit as companion to all creatures in their travail This same Spirit is imaged as making space for a universe of creatures codependently evolving within the dynamic life of Trinitarian Communion

Worship and the New Cosmology Catherine Vincie, 2014 What is the Christian response to developments in the hard sciences What do discoveries at the macro and micro levels have to say about Christian theology about a theology of God Christology pneumatology and creation How do the developments in systematic theology that do take the advances in cosmology and the New Sciences seriously come to bear on our worship life These are the questions that are addressed in this text It is an initial effort to bring cosmology and the New Sciences into dialogue with developments in systematic and sacramental theology This book also suggests some ways in which these developments might appear in our worship Overall the author is concerned to reduce the cognitive dissonance between our scientifically informed everyday lives and our life of faith God Will Be All in All Anna Case-Winters, 2021-10-26 The early Christians saw in Jesus the focus and fulfillment of the conviction that God is with us Over time they learned to speak of that presence in terms of divine incarnation That one theological affirmation raises questions for practically all other Christian beliefs If God is incarnate in Jesus of Nazareth how does that change our understanding of God's presence in all things What does it mean to be human if the life of God has been so intimately joined to human life How can we say God is with us when there is so much suffering and evil in the world What do we mean by us Just us Christians or all of us Just human beings or also the whole creation If we find life in the wider cosmos is God with them too Looking through the lens of the incarnation how wide is the divine embrace In this volume Anna Case Winters demonstrates that the doctrine of the incarnation of God in Christ is not simply one belief among others it is the cornerstone on which all other Christian convictions are built Throughout she carefully lays out the consequences for Christian belief and Christian life of the ancient confession that in Christ the whole fullness of deity dwells bodily God and the Natural World Ted Peters, Marie Turner, 2020-05-01 This collection of essays is a fitting tribute to Denis Edwards who was one of Australia's leading theologians In exploring the most challenging questions of our time these essays canvas some of the great themes of Christian theology that were the focus of Edwards research Denis Edwards was a theologian of dialogue dialogue with our rich theological tradition dialogue with science dialogue with contemporary theologians The contributors to this volume enter into a dialogue with substantial parts of the theological output of Denis Edwards In the process they capture something of his humanity his love of creation and his concern for our common home The book demonstrates the commitment Denis Edwards had to a theology that is truly ecumenical and always learning from the insights of others The editors and authors have done a great service in helping many others to deepen reflection on Denis Edwards contribution to our understanding of God and the natural world

The Past, Present, and Future of Theologies of Interreligious Dialogue Terrence Merrigan, John Friday, 2017-03-17 The Past Present and Future of Theology of Interreligious Dialogue brings together several of the most widely regarded specialists who have contributed to theological reflection on religious diversity and interreligious encounter The chapters are united by the consistent theme of the obligation to engage with the challenges that emerge from the tension between the doctrinal traditions of Christianity and the need to reconsider them in light of and in response to the fact of religious otherness As a whole these reflections are motivated by the desire to bring together a significant selection of different theological approaches that have been developed and appropriated in order to engage with religious difference in the past and present as well as to suggest possibilities for the future This confluence of perspectives reveals the complexity of theological reflection on religious diversity and gives some indication of future challenges that must be acknowledged and perhaps successfully met in the ongoing attempt to address a universal reality in light of traditional doctrinal particularities and cultural concerns

God, Grace, and Creation Philip J. Rossi, 2010 Sixteen peer reviewed essays that explore the work of God's grace in today's world Major contributors include David Burrell Notre Dame and Uganda Martyrs University and Denis Edwards Flinders University in Australia on the role of God's grace in creation and Ilia Delio on the Trinity Georgetown University

God's Gift Giving R. Kevin Seasoltz, 2007-05 This book is a profound but simply written mediation on the central mysteries of the Christian faith the trinity redemption the eucharist human participation in the divine life and solidarity with one another in a contemporary idiom

The Death of Life Sean McDonagh, 2004 A plea for action before it is too late to save the 11 000 species currently under threat of extinction The author considers the many habitats currently under threat of destruction such as coral reefs and mangrove forests as well as the different types of species threatened

Eschatology and Hope Anthony Kelly, 2006 This text offers an introduction to the central theme of Christian eschatology the doctrine and study of what Christian s hope for as they follow the Way taught by the prophets and saints and above all opened up in the paschal mystery of Jesus of Nazareth Hoping for life after death a sage once said is not a particularly religious action Here Anthony Kelly examines the concept of hope in general and how eschatology enlarges the scope of what human s anticipate in ways that transcend mere continuation of life after life Kelly helps the reader see that Christian hope involves much more than hope for personal immortality

Christology and Science F. LeRon Shults, 2008 The dialogue between theology and science has blossomed in recent decades but particular beliefs about Jesus Christ have not often been brought to the forefront of this interdisciplinary discussion even in explicitly Christian contexts This book breaks new ground by explicitly bringing the specific themes of Christology into dialogue with contemporary science It engages recent developments in late modern philosophy of science in order to articulate the Christian beliefs about Jesus Christ in a way that responds to challenges and opportunities that have arisen in light of various scientific discoveries The main chapters deal with Incarnation Atonement and Parousia After a brief treatment of the history of the shaping of these ideas the author traces developments in some of the sciences that have challenged these formulations evolutionary biology cultural anthropology and physical cosmology Each chapter also summarises some of the popular constructive responses to these developments After clarifying the way in which the Christian understanding of God and of humanity shape the task of reforming Christology each chapter concludes with a programmatic outline of ways in which we might articulate the identity agency and presence of Jesus Christ in dialogue with late modern science and culture
