Integrative Long-Term Supply Chain Demand Planning

Solveig Zinnert, 2010 Integrative planning in supply chains is an essential field in logistics management. But still there are open questions especially in a long term perspective. In order to align strategic decisions of several supply chain partners an integrated long term demand planning process is necessary but in many industries still mission. This would enable companies for example to co ordinate their long term investments in production facilities as well as transport and storage capacities and therefore increase overall efficiency in supply chains This edition gives a very good outline about the basic problem providing further an innovative stepwise approach to solve the integrated planning problem The concept is matched with the business case BP as a typical company and industry with influential long term changes ahead By this business example implementation the real life value of such planning instruments can be shown This will motivate many companies and industries to transfer the concept to their specific environments in order to further optimize their supply chains in the future

Technology, Business and Sustainable Development S.M. Riad Shams, Demetris Vrontis, Yaakov Weber, Evangelos Tsoukatos, Lea Iaia, 2023-06-30 Triple bottom line TBL or 3BL was coined as a wide and inspiring approach for businesses aimed at understanding how to create, track and manage economic, social and environmental values. The sustainability sector is strongly increasing its relevance among academics and practitioners and the market opportunities associated with the sustainable development goals SDGs are estimated at over 12 trillion per year by 2030. Although this is a promising context, a recent article suggested a rethinking of the TBL, arguing that sustainability goals value should not be assessed in terms of profit and loss but of people well-being and planet health, looking for a societal profit. Technology plays a crucial role in our society. Respectively the Agenda 21 and the Paris Agreement consider technology to be essential in the pursuit of sustainable development and the achievement of the SDGs. Adding to this, the Covid 19 pandemic has accelerated the adoption of digital solutions in several fields from the way of working to the way of buying and consuming. Companies are becoming more aware of the responsibility they have within environmental and human contexts and people are looking for work reflecting their values and purposes to motivate them. This book aims to contribute to the understanding of the role of technology and its emerging and innovative solutions in the achievement of sustainable development while making a profit. It will be of value to researchers, academics, practitioners and students in the fields of strategic management, entrepreneurship, management of technology and innovation and sustainable development.
