Civil Procedure John T. Cross, Leslie W. Abramson, Ellen E. Deason, 2008 This book differs from other Civil Procedure casebooks in several ways. The most and most significant is that it is structured around an extensive set of problems and exercises. This approach helps students become accustomed to reading and using the rule itself rather than relying on a court's paraphrasing of that rule. Second, the book whenever possible uses cases decided in the last decade underscoring that Procedure is a subject in constant flux. Finally, it is one of the very first to incorporate the 2007 complete rewrite of the Federal Rules. All of these materials are supplemented by extensive notes. The overall result is a book that is very teachable as well as a useful desk reference.

My Dirty Little Book of Stolen Time Liz Jensen, 2008-12-11 Charlotte Schleswig the delightful narrator of Liz Jensen's latest novel supports herself and the lumpen Fru Schleswig who may or may not be her mother as a prostitute in 1890s Copenhagen. While she is no small success at the trade she leaps at a new job opportunity for herself and Fru Schleswig as cleaning ladies for the wealthy widow Krak. But mysteries abound at Fru Krak's dark old mansion. The basement appears to be haunted. Townspeople claim to have seen the dead Professor Krak walking the streets as a ghost and there are stories of desperate souls who paid the professor a visit and never emerged. In fact as Charlotte will discover there is a simple explanation for all this: the basement is home to a time machine. When their cunning investigations land them in trouble Charlotte and Fru Schleswig find themselves catapulted through time and space to modern day London and there their adventures truly begin. With the minxy intrepid Charlotte Liz Jensen introduces a heroine every bit as memorable as Louis Drax. And with My Dirty Little Book of Stolen Time she delivers yet another outlandishly entertaining novel in which the seemingly insurmountable obstacle of spacetime proves no match for human ingenuity and earthly passion.
