

The book cover features a collage of historical and cultural images. At the top left is a portrait of George Washington. Next to it is a portrait of a smiling woman. To the right is a portrait of a woman in a blue dress. Below these are a portrait of a young girl, a portrait of a soldier in a green helmet, and a portrait of a Native American man with a feathered headdress. In the center is a portrait of Abraham Lincoln. At the bottom are portraits of a man in a white shirt, a woman in a white dress, a man in a white shirt, and a portrait of Thomas Jefferson.

Rethinking Our Classrooms, Volume 1 , Rethinking Our Classrooms Wayne Au,Bill Bigelow,Stan Karp,2007 Since the first edition was published in 1994 Rethinking Our Classrooms has sold over 180 000 copies Educating Democratic Citizens in Troubled Times Janet S. Bixby,Judith L. Pace,2014-03-14 This book offers a groundbreaking examination of citizenship education programs that serve contemporary youth in schools and communities across the United States These programs include social studies classes and curricula school governance and community based education efforts The book takes an interdisciplinary approach to exploring the experiences and perspectives of educators and youth involved in these civic education efforts The contributors offer rich analyses of how mainstream and alternative programs are envisioned and enacted and the most important factors that shape them A variety of theoretical lenses and qualitative methodologies are used including ethnography focus group interviews and content analyses of textbooks World Yearbook of Education 2011 Lyn Yates,Madeleine Grumet,2011-02-01 How do curriculum conceptions of knowledge and the schooling experiences of young people engage the great issues of this tumultuous time Curriculum is always influenced by the events that shape our world but when testing and bench marking preoccupy us we can forget the world that is both the foundation and the object of curriculum This edited volume brings together international contributors to analyze and reflect on the way the events of the last decade have influenced the curriculum in their countries As they address nationalism in the face of economic globalisation the international financial crisis immigration and the culture of diaspora they ask how national loyalties are balanced with international relationships and interests They ask how the rights of women and of ethnic and racial groups are represented They ask what has changed about history and civics post 9 11 and they ask how countries that have experienced profound political and economic changes have addressed them in curriculum These interactions and changes are a subject of particular interest for an international yearbook in that they are almost always permeated by global movements and influenced by multinational bodies and practices And as these essays show in curriculum global and international issues are explicitly or implicitly also about local and national interests and about how citizens engage their rights and responsibilities This volume brings together a new approach to perspectives on curriculum today and a new collection of insights into the changes from different parts of the world which discuss How is the world represented in curriculum How do responses to world events shape the stories we tell students about who they are and can be This book will be of great benefit to educational researchers and policy makers as well as undergraduate and postgraduate students A People's History for the Classroom Bill Bigelow,Howard Zinn,2008 Presents a collection of lessons and activities for teaching American history for students in middle school and high school American Odyssey Gary B.
