WALNECK'S CLASSIC CYCLE TRADER, MAY 2004 Causey Enterprises, LLC, The First World War as a Caesura? Christin Pschichholz, 2020-12-02

During the phases of mobile warfare the ethnically and religiously very heterogeneous population in the border regions of the multi ethnic empires suffered in particular Even if the real military situation in the course of the war hardly gave cause for concern the image of disloyal ethnic and national minorities was widespread This was particularly the case when ethnic groups lived on both sides of the border and social and political tensions had already established themselves along ethnic or religious lines of conflict before the war Displacements deportations and mass violence were the result The genocide of the Armenian population is the most extreme example of this development This anthology examines the border regions of the Ottoman Russian and Habsburg empires during the First World War with regard to radical population policy and genocidal violence from a comparative perspective in order to draw a more precise picture of escalating and deescalating factors
