The Alchemist* by Paulo Coelho Summer Reading Packet

PRINT THIS PACKET AND HANDWRITE YOUR ANSWERS.
NO DIGITAL/TYPED PACKETS WILL BE ACCEPTED!

Preliminary Notes about the Novel:

The Alchemist is written in a fable format. Generally speaking, fables use recognizable, simple characters and settings in order to illustrate a simple truth about life or human nature.

The novel integrates ideas and philosophies of many faiths and historical periods. Many of these ideas concern the pursuit of truth, one's intended destiny and the attainment of personal happiness. Coelho refers to these combined elements as one's "Personal Legend." He tells the story of Santiago in order to teach us how we may find and live out our own Personal Legends. These ideas, though, have been explored since ancient times in one form or another by countless faiths and peoples. Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam, Taoism, Christianity, Judaism, countless tribal cultures, in addition to ancient and modern philosophers, all attempt to define the idea of one's Personal Legend (though they may call it by different names), and all subscribe paths to achieving personal fulfillment. Thus, although the legend is about no faith or philosophy in particular, it is about all faiths and philosophies.

Alchemy is the medieval "science" of transforming rocks into gold. Alchemy plays an important part in the plot (literal level) of the story, but it also becomes a symbol, or allegorical device, in the legend Coelho is really using characters, events and symbols as tools to show us how to achieve spiritual alchemy. In other words, how do we find or recognize the "gold," -- our Personal Legend-- in the "rocks" of the everyday, ordinary, simple details of our lives?

In The Alchemist, each character, place, and idea has a meaning beyond the regular "literal" (actual) meaning in the story. They also have a "figurative" meaning (a comparison that seems dissimilar but actually relates to your experience in the real world). As Santiago discovers, his treasure of "gold" is not literally "gold" and not far away, not glittery, not exotic, and not complicated, but it may require a journey of courage, faith and perseverance to discover what it is and where it is hidden, the reader can relate the literal meaning of "gold" in the novel to their own "figurative" gold in the real world which is achieving one's own dreams, whatever they may be.

In an allegorical novel, the characters and events are all symbolic and your job in reading this novel is to figure out how, even the simplest objects, places, and people, represent importance beyond what they represent in the novel.
