

Decision Making Rubric

	4	3	2	1
Finding Relevant Information	I know several strategies to help me find the information I need to make a good decision.	I know how to find the information I need to make a good decision.	With help, I can usually find the information I need to make a good decision.	I cannot find the information I need to make a decision.
Creating Options	I think of several possible choices when an important decision must be made.	I think of more than one option when I have to make an important decision.	When I have help, I can think of more than one option when I have to make an important decision.	I usually can only think of one possible choice when I have to make an important decision.
Weighing Options	I use a variety of reasoning strategies to weigh my options and choose the best one.	I think carefully about all my choices before I make a decision.	Unless someone reminds me, I often make decisions without thinking carefully about them.	I usually make important decisions quickly without thinking carefully about them.
Predicting Consequences	I predict the consequences of each of my decisions and think about the impact that they will have on others and me.	I think about the consequences of my decisions.	I have trouble thinking about what the consequences of my decisions will be.	I do not think about the consequences of my decisions.

practical guide born of the author's own experience working with students in the social sciences and education providing a step by step outline of how to do action research backed by the most extensive theory and research coverage on the market today. The author guides future researcher practitioners through the action research process via numerous concrete illustrations and a wealth of on line resources positioning it as a fundamental component of practice. A key and unique strength of the book is its outreach to a much larger breadth of students than usually found in action research books. This book will illustrate all the steps in action research using examples from education social work psychology sociology nursing medicine and counseling. The structure of the book is intended as the sole textbook for a course devoted to naturalistic inquiry practitioner research or beginning qualitative methods or can complement a general research course.

Handbook of Action Research Peter Reason, Hilary Bradbury, 2006-01-17 With the Handbook of Action Research hailed as a turning point in how action research is framed and understood by scholars this student edition has been structured to provide an easy inroad into the field for researchers and students. It includes concise chapter summaries and an informative introduction that draws together the different strands of action research and reveals their diverse applications as well as their interrelations. Divided into four parts there are important themes of thinking and practice running throughout.

The Palgrave International Handbook of Action Research Lonnie L. Rowell, Catherine D. Bruce, Joseph M. Shosh, Margaret M. Riel, 2016-10-26 The Palgrave International Handbook of Action Research offers a vivid portrait of both theoretical perspectives and practical action research activity and related benefits around the globe while attending to the cultural, political, social, historical and ecological contexts that localize, shape and characterize action research. Consisting of teachers, youth workers, counselors, nurses, community developers, artists, ecologists, farmers, settlement dwellers, students, professors and intellectual activists on every continent and at every edge of the globe, the movement sustained and inspired by this community was born of the efforts of intellectual activists in the mid twentieth century specifically Orlando Fals Borda, Paulo Freire, Myles Horton, Kurt Lewin. Cross national issues of networking as well as the challenges, tensions and issues associated with the transformative power of action research are explored from multiple perspectives providing unique contributions to our understanding of what it means to do action research and to be an action researcher. This handbook sets a global action research agenda and map for readers to consider as they embark on new projects.

Action Research Davydd J. Greenwood, 1999-01-01 Supported bilaterally by Sweden and Norway the Scandinavian Action Research Development Program ACRES Action Research in Scandinavia emphasized conceptualizing research questions and self conscious writing processes for experienced action researchers. Participants came from Norway, Sweden, Finland, Holland, Great Britain and the United States. A learning experiment in the tradition of Scandinavian industrial democracy ACRES had both intellectual and organizational tensions common to action research projects. This book includes theoretical and historical overviews of action research, reflections on the writing process, narratives about the design and difficult internal processes of ACRES and a
