Multimodal Composition Shyam B. Pandey, Santosh Khadka, 2021-09-30. This collection explores the role of individual faculty initiatives and institutional faculty development programs in supporting programmatic adoption of multimodal composition across diverse institutional contexts. The volume speaks to the growing interest in multimodal composition in university classrooms as the digital media and technology landscape has evolved to showcase the power and value of employing multiple modes in educational contexts. Drawing on case studies from a range of institutions, the book is divided into four parts, each addressing the needs of different stakeholders, including scholars, instructors, department chairs, curriculum designers, administrators, and program directors. Faculty initiatives, curricular design, and pedagogies, faculty development programs, and writing across disciplines. Taken together, the 16 chapters make the case for an integrated approach, bringing together insights from unique faculty initiatives with institutional faculty development programs in order to effectively execute support and expand programmatic adoption of multimodal composition. This book will be of interest to scholars in multimodal composition, rhetoric, communication studies, education, technology, media studies, and instructional design, as well as administrators supporting program design and faculty development.

Researching and Teaching Second Language Writing in the Digital Age Mimi Li, 2022-01-10. This book presents a comprehensive approach to issues related to researching and teaching second language (L2) writing in digital environments. In the digital age, new technologies have revolutionized the ways we communicate and construct knowledge, and have also reshaped the traditional notions of writing and literacy, posing new challenges and opportunities for L2 teachers and students. This book provides up-to-date coverage of the main areas of L2 writing and technology, including digital multimodal composing, computer-mediated collaborative writing, online teacher and peer feedback, automated writing evaluation, and corpus-based writing instruction. It synthesizes the relevant literature, analyzes theoretical perspectives, compiles relevant resources, and offers research and pedagogical recommendations to guide scholars in undertaking new L2 writing research and instructional practice in technologically supported educational contexts. This book will be of relevance and interest to researchers, language teachers, and graduate students in applied linguistics and education.

Productivity, Professionalism, and Parenting in Academia Christine E. Tulley, 2025-04-30. Drawing on time-use diary analysis, this unique and detailed study fills in the larger narrative about what it takes hour by hour to navigate academic motherhood with a rhetoric and composition career. Looking specifically at the intersections between parenting and writing for publication in order to find out how and when writing for career advancing tasks such as publication occur but also through the lens of disciplinary time constraints including heavy grading and administrative workloads, the book examines support systems noted within diary entries that make combining motherhood and a career in rhetoric and composition possible Using both quantitative analysis of hours and qualitative coding of time use diaries from rhet comp moms this book answers questions about publishing professionalism and parenting This book will interest scholars and graduate students working in the discipline of rhetoric writing and composition particularly those working on labor and professional issues on gender and equality within the discipline and anyone working in all fields looking for ways to foster a better work life balance WPA, Writing Program Administration ,2007 Teaching the New
