Carbonate Reservoir Characterization F. Jerry Lucia, 1999 One main target in petroleum recovery is the description of the three dimensional distribution of petrophysical properties on the interwell scale in carbonate reservoirs in order to improve performance predictions by means of fluid flow computer simulations The book focuses on the improvement of geological petrophysical and geostatistical methods describes the basic petrophysical properties important geology parameters and rock fabrics from cores and discusses their spatial distribution A closing chapter deals with reservoir models as an input into flow simulators

Carbonate Reservoir Characterization: A Geologic-Engineering Analysis, Part II S.J. Mazzullo, H.H. Rieke, G.V. Chilingarian, 1996-11-22 This second volume on carbonate reservoirs completes the two volume treatise on this important topic for petroleum engineers and geologists Together the volumes form a complete modern reference to the properties and production behaviour of carbonate petroleum reservoirs The book contains valuable glossaries to geologic and petroleum engineering terms providing exact definitions for writers and speakers Lecturers will find a useful appendix devoted to questions and problems that can be used for teaching assignments as well as a guide for lecture development In addition there is a chapter devoted to core analysis of carbonate rocks which is ideal for laboratory instruction Managers and production engineers will find a review of the latest laboratory technology for carbonate formation evaluation in the chapter on core analysis The modern classification of carbonate rocks is presented with petroleum production performance and overall characterization using seismic and well test analyses Separate chapters are devoted to the important naturally fractured and chalk reservoirs Throughout the book the emphasis is on formation evaluation and performance This two volume work brings together the wide variety of approaches to the study of carbonate reservoirs and will therefore be of value to managers engineers geologists and lecturers
