Lifespan Treatment for Autistic Individuals Peter Sturmey, Professor of Special Education
Russell Lang, Russell Lang, Director of Clinical Development and Research
James K Luiselli, James K. Luiselli, 2025-07-21
In a world filled with hundreds of ASD treatments it is crucial to distinguish between evidence based practices and ineffective and potentially harmful pseudoscientific approaches. Interpreting ASD treatment research is complicated by differences in research norms across disciplines competing theoretical underpinnings and misleading information available from media sources. Overall these issues contribute to a gap between the outcomes demonstrated in scientific studies and what is achieved in applied settings e.g. schools, homes and clinics. Lifespan Treatment for Autistic Individuals guides professional practitioners in the selection of treatments that are procedurally and ethically best suited for their individual clients.

Behavior Modification Garry Martin, Joseph J. Pear, 2015-10-02
Behavior Modification 10 e assumes no specific prior knowledge about psychology or behavior modification on the part of the reader. The authors begin with basic principles and procedures of behavior modification and then provide readers with how to skills such as observing and recording. Next the authors provide advanced discussion and references to acquaint readers with some of the empirical and theoretical underpinnings of the field. Readers will emerge with a thorough understanding of behavior modification in a wide variety of populations and settings.

Enduring Issues In Special Education Barbara Bateman, John W. Lloyd, Melody Tankersley, 2015-02-20
Enduring Issues in Special Education is aimed at any course in the undergraduate or graduate special education curriculum that is wholly or partly devoted to a critical examination of current issues in special education. The book organizes 28 chapters into seven sections using familiar structuring principles: what, who, where, how, when, why and whether. Each section begins with an introduction that provides historical, legal and theoretical background.

information and organizing commentary for the chapters that follow. The book's objective in addition to informing readers about the issues is to develop critical thinking skills in the context of special education. Key features include the following Dialectic Format. Each of the 28 chapters presents compelling reasons for addressing the issue at hand and specific ways to do so. Because each issue is written from different perspectives and focuses on a variety of aspects readers are encouraged to weigh the arguments seek additional information and come up with synthesized positions of their own Organizing Framework. The book's seven sections have been arranged according to a scheme that is the essence of most investigative reporting and provides a coherent easy to understand framework for readers Expertise All chapters are written by leading scholars who are highly regarded experts in their fields and conclude with suggested readings and discussion questions for additional study.

Behavioral Intervention for Young Children with Autism Catherine Maurice, Gina Green, Stephen C. Luce, 1996

Chapters on choosing an effective treatment discuss how to evaluate claims about treatments for autism and what the research says about early behavioral intervention and other treatments. Subsequent sections address what to teach teaching programs how to teach and who should teach. Also addressed are the organization and funding of a behavioral program working with a speech language pathologist and working with the schools. Answers to commonly asked questions are presented along with case histories.

Multimedia in Education and Special Education Onan Demir, Cari Celik, 2009 Advances in media technology and psychology have had an enormous effect on how students learn and how teachers teach. This book presents new media applications for teaching as well as new methodologies to help students with special needs. An investigation of the effectiveness of multimedia computer assisted instruction is presented. The needs of the autistic are addressed in this book as well with attention given to the use of Virtual Reality applications that may improve the learning training and quality of life of people with autism as well as other learning difficulties. Musculoskeletal diseases such as rheumatoid and osteoarthritis are some of the major causes of chronic disability. Education is considered to be an integral part of their treatment equipping patients to cope with the different stages of these progressive diseases. Continued development and innovative use of new media will most likely broaden its appeal and enhance their educational efficacy.
