Alien Chic Neil Badmington, 2004-08-13 From The War of the Worlds Mars Attacks Mission to Mars and Independence Day Neil Badmington explores our relationship with aliens and how thinkers such as Descartes Barthes Freud Lyotard and Derrida have conceptualised what it means to be human and post human What is Posthumanism? Cary Wolfe, 2010 What does it mean to think beyond humanism Is it possible to craft a mode of philosophy ethics and interpretation that rejects the classic humanist divisions of self and other mind and body society and nature human and animal organic and technological Can a new kind of humanities posthumanities respond to the redefinition of humanity's place in the world by both the technological and the biological or green continuum in which the human is but one life form among many Exploring how both critical thought along with cultural practice have reacted to this radical repositioning Cary Wolfe one of the founding figures in the field of animal studies and posthumanist theory ranges across bioethics cognitive science animal ethics gender and disability to develop a theoretical and philosophical approach responsive to our changing understanding of ourselves and our world Then in performing posthumanist readings of such diverse works as Temple Grandin's writings Wallace Stevens's poetry Lars von Trier's Dancer in the Dark the architecture of Diller Scofidio and David Byrne and Brian Eno's My Life in the Bush of Ghosts he shows how this philosophical sensibility can transform art and culture For Wolfe a vibrant rigorous posthumanism is vital for addressing questions of ethics and justice language and trans species communication social systems and their inclusions and exclusions and the intellectual aspirations of interdisciplinarity In What Is Posthumanism he carefully distinguishes posthumanism from transhumanism the biotechnological enhancement of human beings and narrow definitions of the posthuman as the hoped for transcendence of materiality In doing so Wolfe reveals that it is humanism not the human in all its embodied and prosthetic complexity that is left behind in posthumanist thought Dying in a

Transhumanist and Posthuman Society Panagiotis Pentaris, 2021-11-25 Exploring both the intrapersonal moral and interpersonal ethical nature of death and dying in the context of their development philosophical Dying in a Transhumanist and Posthuman Society shows how death and dying have been and will continue to be governed in any given society Drawing on transhumanism and discourses about posthumanity life prolongation and digital life the book analyses death dying and grief via the governance of dying It states that the bio medical dimensions of our understanding of death and dying have predominated not only the discourses about death in society and the care of the dying but their policy and practice as well It seeks to provoke thinking beyond the benefits of technology and within the confinements of the world transhumanists describe This book is written for all who have an interest in thanatology i.e death studies but will be useful specifically to those investigating the experiences of dying and grieving in contemporary societies wherein technology biology and medicine continuously advance Thus the manuscript will be of interest to researchers in a broad range of areas including health and social care social policy anthropology sociology philosophy cultural studies and of course thanatology Critical

Posthumanism: Cloned, Toxic and Cyborg Bodies in Fiction Pelin Kümbet, 2020-12-25 Focusing on three representation of posthuman bodies as cloned bodies in Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go 2005 toxic bodies in Indra Sinha's Animal's People 2007 and cyborg bodies in Justina Robson's Natural History 2004 from the theoretical perspectives of posthuman definition of what it means to be human this study discusses the changing concept of the body In this context the integral and dynamic connection between a human body and the world is of special significance which opens up new possibilities to reconfigure the human body that is no longer conceded separate from the nonhuman world but embodied in it Each of the novels significantly displays the in betweenness of humans by making them interact with chemical substances machines and other nonhuman entities and shows how clear cut distinctions between the human and the nonhuman bodies have collapsed

Fantasies of Self-Mourning Ruben Borg, 2019-01-07 In Fantasies of Self Mourning Ruben Borg describes the formal features of a posthuman cyborgian imaginary at work in modernism The book's central claim is that modernism invents the posthuman as a way to think through the contradictions of its historical moment Borg develops a posthumanist critique of the concept of organic life based on comparative readings of Pirandello Woolf Beckett and Flann O'Brien alongside discussions of Alfred Hitchcock Chris Marker B la Tarr Ridley Scott and Mamoru Oshii The argument draws together a cluster of modernist narratives that contemplate the separation of a cybernetic eye from a human body or call for a tearing up of the body understood as a discrete organic unit capable of synthesizing desire and sense perception

Screening the Posthuman Missy Molloy, Pansy Duncan, Claire Henry, 2023 From AI to climate change recent technological ecological and cultural transformations have unsettled established assumptions about the relationship between the human and the more than human world Screening the Posthuman addresses a heterogeneous body of twenty first century films that turn to the figure of the posthuman as a means of exploring this development Through close analyses of films as diverse as Ki-ningy Air Doll dir Hirokazu Koreeda 2009 Testrol s l lekrol On Body and Soul dir Ildiko Enyedi 2017 and Nomadland dir Chlo Zhao 2020 this wide ranging volume shows that while often identified as the remit of science fiction the posthuman on screen crosses filmic genres national contexts and industrial settings In the process posthuman cinema emphasizes humanity's entanglement in broader biological technological and social worlds and exposes new models of subjectivity community and desire In advancing these arguments Screening the Posthuman draws on scholarship associated with critical posthumanist theory an ongoing project unified by a decentering of the human As the first systematic full length application of this body of scholarship to cinema Screening the Posthuman advocates for a rigorous posthumanist critique that avoids both humanist nostalgia and transhumanist fantasy in its attention to the excitements and anxieties of posthuman experience
