Chinese-Japanese Competition and the East Asian Security Complex Jeffrey Reeves, Jeffrey Hornung, Kerry Lynn Nankivell, 2017-07-14
This volume examines contemporary diplomatic economic and security competition between China and Japan in the Asia Pacific region The book outlines the role that Sino Japanese competition plays in East Asian security an area of study largely overlooked in contemporary writing on Asian security which tends to focus on US China relations and or US hegemony in Asia The volume focuses on Chinese and Japanese foreign policy under President Xi Jinping and Prime Minister Shinz Abe and regional security dynamics within and between Asian states institutions since 2012 It employs regional security complex theory as a theoretical framework to view Chinese and Japanese competition in the Asian region In doing so the volume draws on a levels of analysis approach to demonstrate the value in looking at security in the Asia Pacific from a regional rather than global perspective The vast majority of existing research on the region s security tends to focus on great power relations and treats Asia as a sub region within the larger global security architecture In contrast this volume shows how competition between the two largest Asian economies shapes East Asia s security environment and drives security priorities across Asia s sub regions As such this collection provides an important contribution to discussion on security in Asia one with potential to influence both political and military policy makers security practitioners and scholars This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics regional security diplomacy and international relations

Geo-economics and Power Politics in the 21st Century Mikael Wigell, Sören Scholvin, Mika Aaltola, 2018-07-06
Starting from the key concept of geo economics this book investigates the new power politics and argues that the changing structural features of the contemporary international system are recasting the strategic imperatives of foreign policy practice States increasingly practice power politics by economic means Whether it is about Iran s nuclear programme or Russia s annexation of Crimea Western states prefer economic sanctions to military force Most rising powers have also become cunning agents of economic statecraft China for instance is using finance investment and trade as means to gain strategic influence and embed its global rise Yet the way states use economic power to pursue strategic aims remains an understudied topic in International Political Economy and International Relations The contributions to this volume assess geo economics as a form of power politics They show how power and security are no longer simply coupled to the physical control of territory by military means but also to commanding and manipulating the economic binds that are decisive in today s globalised and highly interconnected world Indeed as the volume shows the ability to wield economic power forms an essential means in the foreign policies of major powers In so doing the book challenges simplistic accounts of a return to traditional military driven geopolitics while not succumbing to any unfounded idealism based on the supposedly stabilising effects of interdependence on international relations As such it advances our understanding of geo economics as a strategic practice and as an innovative and timely analytical approach This book will be of much interest to students of security studies international political economy foreign policy and International Relations in general

Explaining Contemporary Asian Military Modernization Sheryn Lee, 2021-04-20 This book proposes a novel theoretical framework of interactive arming in order to explain armament dynamics in contemporary Asia Frequently the modernisation of contemporary naval forces in Asia is described as an arms race with the underlying assumption being that weapons acquisitions and increases in defence expenditure are competitive and bilateral and due to conflicting purposes or mutual fears This book argues that the concept of an arms race is an unsuitable one for explaining contemporary military modernisation in 21st century Asia Instead it proposes a novel and innovative concept of interactive arming and argues that what drives conflict is political rivalry not weapons acquisitions Instead of perceiving arming as abnormal behaviour the book views arming as a natural strategic behaviour of states and military modernisation as a basic requirement for a state s ability to survive This book will be of much interest to students of Asian security strategic studies and international relations in general

The United States Navy's Pivot to Asia Bruce A. Elleman, 2023-06-30 This book examines the origins of the US Navy s 2007 Maritime Strategy the formation of the US government s Pivot to Asia strategy and the most recent revisions to this strategy that focus more specifically on China Besides examining the details of this strategy formulation the book explores the internal and external repercussions on the US Navy of the Pivot to Asia It discusses the Fat Leonard scandal which involved bribery and corruption in contracts for the maintenance of the US fleets in the region and considers the sharp decrease in training and readiness of the Pacific fleet to support the pivot which in turn led to serious maritime collisions It also assesses the impact of the pivot on other countries in the region engaging in the debate as to whether the pivot was necessary in order to convince the countries of the region that the United States had not lost its staying power or whether the pivot managed to make tensions in the Asia Pacific worse even while allowing the strategic situation in the Middle East and Europe to worsen as a result of neglect

Naval Warfare Jeremy Black, 2017-01-05 The modern age of naval warfare
