American male identity - A review of the syllabus from a perspective of male studies Marco Sievers, 2007-06-18 Seminar paper from the year 2005 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 1.3 University of Hannover course Asian American Literature Survey language English abstract Reviewing the syllabus and trying to sketch an overview of Asian American Literature its inherent problem of heterogeneity occurs which shows that the term Asian American is only a makeshift and vague but nevertheless necessary label This heterogeneity especially complicates a revision from a view of male studies because it applies to the authors as well as to characters of the texts and makes it difficult to state general explanations In spite of this problem red thematic lines can be traced and analysed They depict thoughts emotions needs and problems of Asian American men and shed a light on their identities and inner struggles But is there really something that can be called an Asian American male identity as a common ground or do these men only share certain problems concerning their masculinity This paper will examine the topic of male identity within the syllabus including theories of male studies Of course its insights are not general but dependent on and limited by the fiction of the texts Nevertheless will it show that the creation of an Asian American male identity is subject to special problems which arise from the belonging to two social and cultural environments
