A Natural History Of Nature Writing:

A Natural History of Nature Writing Frank Stewart, 1994-10-01 A Natural History of Nature Writing is a penetrating overview of the origins and development of a uniquely American literature. Essayist and poet Frank Stewart describes in rich and compelling prose the lives and works of the most prominent American nature writers of the 19th and 20th centuries including Henry D. Thoreau the father of American nature writing, John Burroughs a schoolteacher and failed businessman who found his calling as a writer and elevated the nature essay to a loved and respected literary form, John Muir founder of Sierra Club who celebrated the wilderness of the Far West as few before him had, Aldo Leopold a Forest Service employee and scholar who extended our moral responsibility to include all animals and plants, Rachel Carson a scientist who raised the consciousness of the nation by revealing the catastrophic effects of human intervention on the Earth's living systems, Edward Abbey an outspoken activist who charted the boundaries of ecological responsibility and pushed these boundaries to political extremes. Stewart highlights the controversies ignited by the powerful and eloquent prose of these and other writers with their expansive and often strongly political points of view. Combining a deeply felt sense of wonder at the beauty surrounding us with a rare ability to capture and explain the meaning of that beauty, nature writers have had a profound effect on American culture and politics. A Natural History of Nature Writing is an insightful examination of an important body of American literature.

Nature Writing Don Scheese, 2013-10-28 In this comprehensive study of the genre, Don Scheese traces its evolution from the pastoralism evident in the natural history observations of Aristotle and the poetry of Virgil to current American writers. He documents the emergence of the modern form of nature writing as a reaction to industrialization. Scheese's personal observations of natural settings sharpen the reader's understanding of the dynamics between author and locale. His study is further informed by ample use of illustrations and close readings of core writers such as Thoreau, John Muir, and Mary Austin, showing how each writer's work exemplifies the pastoral tradition and celebrate a spirit of place in the United States.

The Politics of Nature and Environmental Writing Rod Gblett, 2025-11-01 This book defines nature writing as the creative practice of tracing the bodily and sensory enjoyment of nature in the broad sense of the processes and places of land, air, and water in prose, poetry, and poetic prose. In so doing, it celebrates the creative practice of selected nature and environmental writing as well as related cultural critique. Gblett draws on the work of Gilles Deleuze

Felix Guattari and Mikhail Bakhtin to establish what nature writing is and on Michel Foucault to distinguish what it is not He discusses Aboriginal storytelling as well as the work of classic nature writers including Henry David Thoreau Aldo Leopold and John Muir He also considers writing on environmental conservation and politics as well as the new nature writing found in the work of authors such as Richard Mabey Robert Macfarlane Caroline Crampton and Rachel Lichenstein Through all of this contemplation the book invites readers to love their local places plants and animals through creative practice

German-Language Nature Writing from Eighteenth Century to the Present Gabriele Dürbeck,Christine Kanz,2024-05-11 This volume examines the topic of German language nature writing in a broad historical context spanning more than two centuries It brings together contributions on the debates of the category Nature Writing by numerous renowned international scholars It discusses literary texts of natural history nature exploration nature poetry perception and reflection by German speaking authors since the 18th century including texts by Ulrike Draesner and on Esther Kinsky s writing The book asks whether the here discussed texts can should or may also be labeled as Nature Writing and how this new perspective on German literary history might change traditional classifications such as Naturlyrik nature poetry in German literary history

Modern British Nature Writing, 1789-2020 Will Abberley,Christina Alt,David Higgins,Graham Huggan,Pippa Marland,2022-03-17 This first full length study of modern British nature writing is timely and invaluable for literary scholarship in the environmental crisis

Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz,2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography s interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie s allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re writing of the outdoors and John Burnside s use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts
