A Mediterranean Society An Abridgment In One Volume:

A Mediterranean Society Shelomo Dov Goitein, 1999 S D Goitein's five volume work on Jewish communities in the medieval Mediterranean world has been abridged and reworked into this volume that captures the essential narratives and contexts

Mediterranean Society, An Abridgment in One Volume Goitein/Lassner, 2001 S D Goitein's magisterial five volume work on Jewish communities in the medieval Mediterranean world offers an unparalleled view of how people lived traveled worshiped and conducted their economic and social affairs Living under Muslim rule the Jews became increasingly urbanized and played a significant part in an expanding world economy As major actors in the flourishing intellectual life of the period they forged much of what constitutes traditional Judaism today and served as a conduit of Islamic learning to the Christian West Goitein's masterpiece is now abridged and reworked by Jacob Lassner in a single volume that captures the essential narratives and contexts of the original To understand the value of this distillation we need to picture the remarkable all but impenetrable cache of unique letters and documents found by accident in a geniza or repository of sacred writings in Old Cairo These materials unlike historical chronicles and literary texts of the time represent the living experiences of people in a wide variety of settings throughout the entire Mediterranean and stretching as far east as the Indian subcontinent Goitein explored and interpreted these texts as no other scholar had Lassner in turn makes Goitein's findings available to a wide audience and then moves on to raise a host of new and tantalizing questions about the Jews of the Geniza and the relationship of their community to the hegemonic Muslim society

The Sheikh's House at Quseir al-Qadim Katherine Strange Burke, 2021-04-30 This study of a thirteenth century dwelling on Egypt's Red Sea Coast draws on multiple lines of evidence including texts excavated at the site to reconstruct a history of the structure and the people who dwelt within The inhabitants participated in Nile Valley Red Sea Indian Ocean trade transported pilgrims sent grain to Mecca and Medina and wrote sermons and amulets for the local faithful These activities are detailed in the documents and fleshed out in the botanical faunal artifact and stratigraphic evidence from the University of Chicago's excavations 1978-82 This compound eventually consisted of two houses and a row of storerooms and became the center of mercantile activity at Quseir al Qadim Over time as the number of named individuals who received shipping notes addressed to the warehouse of Ab Mufarij increased living rooms and storerooms were added to accommodate this expansion of commerce While most merchants were dealing in textiles dates and grains additional commodities traded included perfumes gemstone decorated textiles resist dyed textiles and porcelains Specialist studies by Steven Goodman on the avian faunal remains and Wilma Wetterstrom on the macrobotanical finds reveal that the compound's occupants enjoyed a diet of chicken and Nile Valley produce such as grapes and watermelon and they were supplemented by high priced imports nuts and fruits from around the Mediterranean along with medicinal plants from as far away as India indicate the wealth and status of this family of merchants The evidence from this small portion of Quseir al Qadim yields a rich local story that is a microcosm of Nile Valley Red Sea Indian Ocean trade under the last Ayyubid sultans of Egypt A Mediterranean Society S. D. Goitein, 2000-06-07 This six volume portrait of a Mediterranean personality is a composite portrait of the individuals who wrote the personal letters contracts and all other manuscript fragments that found their way into the Cairo Geniza Most of the fragments from the Geniza a storeroom for discarded writings that could not be thrown away because they might contain the name of God had been removed to Cambridge University Library and other libraries around the world Professor Goitein devoted the last thirty years of his long and productive life to their study deciphering the language of the documents and organizing what he called a marvelous treasure trove of manuscripts into a coherent fascinating picture of the society that created them It is a rich panoramic view of how people lived traveled worshiped and conducted their economic and social affairs The first and second volumes describe the economic foundations of the society and the institutions and social and political structures that characterized the community The remaining material intended for a single volume describing the particulars of the way people lived blossomed into three volumes devoted respectively to the family daily life and the individual The divisions are arbitrary but helpful because of the wealth of information The author refers throughout to other passages in his monumental work that amplify what is discussed in any particular section The result is an incomparably clear and immediate impression of how it was in the Mediterranean world of the tenth through the thirteenth century Volume I subtitled Economic Foundations gives an overview of the Mediterranean history peoples culture during the high middle ages discusses the working class the business world and government s role in commerce and provides a complete description of travel and seafaring The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Law Anver M. Ackerman-Lieberman, 2014-01-15 The Cairo Geniza is the largest and richest store of documentary evidence for the medieval Islamic world This book seeks to revolutionize the way scholars use that treasure trove Phillip I Ackerman Lieberman draws on legal documents from the Geniza to reconceive of life in the medieval Islamic marketplace In place of the shared practices broadly understood by scholars to have transcended confessional boundaries he reveals how Jewish merchants in Egypt employed distinctive trading practices Highly influenced by Jewish law these commercial practices served to manifest their Jewish identity in the medieval Islamic context In light of this distinctiveness Ackerman Lieberman proposes an alternative model for using the Geniza documents as a tool for understanding daily life in the medieval Islamic world as a whole The Journal of Jewish Studies ,2002
