A Picture Of Anne Frank Picture Biography:

A Picture Book of Anne Frank David A. Adler,2018-01-01 The narrator reading with clarity and precision tells the well known story of the Jewish girl and her family who hid during the Holocaust This high quality read along is excellent for school and public libraries Booklist Anne Frank: Her Life in Words and Pictures from the Archives of The Anne Frank House Menno Metselaar,Ruud van der Rol,2009-09 First published 2004 in the Netherlands by the Anne Frank House under the title The story of Anne Frank Prelims Anne Frank Menno Metselaar,Ruud Van Der Rol,2015-02-24 For use in schools and libraries only Photos of the famous diary school pictures and the rooms in which she lived with her family while hiding from the Nazis for two years are compiled in this moving biography about the short life and enduring spirit of this young girl and talented writer A Picture Book of Anne Frank David A. Adler,1994-04-01 A chronicle of the life of Anne Frank a young Jewish girl who kept a diary during her family s attempts to hide from the Nazis in the 1940s Important dates in the life of Anne Frank and notes from the author are included Anne Frank: Her life in words and pictures from the archives of The Anne Frank House Menno Metselaar,Ruud van der Rol,2023-05-01 On a summer day in 1942 Anne Frank and her family went into hiding from the Nazis Until the day they arrested her more than two years later she kept a diary Anne Frank is the indispensable visual guide to her tragic but inspiring story Produced in association with the Anne Frank House and filled with never before published snapshots school pictures and photos of the diary and the Secret Annex this elegantly designed album is both a stand alone introduction to Anne s life and a photographic companion to a classic of Holocaust literature Anne Frank Ronald Wilfred Jansen,2011-09-01 INTRODUCTION Anne Frank is world famous Millions of people from all over the world have read her diary The Anne Frank Foundation promotes Anne Frank and her mental legacy The travelling exhibition Anne Frank A History for Today is by far the most visited Dutch exhibition in the world My interest in the persecution of the Jews in general and that of Anne Frank in particular has gradually developed In 1994 1996 I took part in volunteer projects in the former concentration camps Sachsenhausen and Dachau in Germany During these activities I was deeply afflicted by the contrast between the present silence in the former concentration camps and the past suffering of the prisoners who had been held captive here during the war What afflicted me more than anything however was the cruelty of the Nazi regime and the extent of that cruelty In particular I found one of the most shocking things as the sight of lampshades made from human skin understandably a number of the younger participants did not handle this sight too well In 2001 I visited the Annex for the first time The Annex leaves a deep impression on many people and I was no exception I could feel the tensions of the persons in hiding and I realised that Anne had become caught in the Nazis web she had been torn away from her everyday world her life was broken before it could blossom Anne was interested in culture religion and science and she had a keen interest in society at large being very concerned about everybody s ups and downs and trials of life that was why I thought it was so dismal that she had been killed and only owing to the fact that she was a Jew The need in me arose to portray the life of Anne Frank not by means of a biography or a book with old pictures many of which have been published many times before but in a different light Ultimately I wanted to discover whether there are still remnants of her past life and surroundings lingering in the present As a historic and photographer I enjoy combining history and photography As such I firstly immersed myself in literature about and by Anne Frank I considered this to be absolutely fundamental so that I could purposively take current pictures of her surroundings In 2008 2009 I made a photo report about the residences of Anne Frank 1929 1945 I visited her home addresses in Frankfurt am Main Aachen the Merwedeplein in Amsterdam her place of hiding in the Annex in Amsterdam and the concentration camps of Westerbork Auschwitz Birkenau and Bergen Belsen where she was imprisoned I have provided the pictures of short notes explaining the connection with Anne Frank my recent pictures are an important addition to the many old pictures of Anne Frank The emptiness left behind by Anne Frank becomes evident when I place a recent picture next to an old picture which depicts her taken from the same angle When making the pictures I took special notice of interesting details and the historical character of the subject after all the pictures are the result of personal experiences which were often quite intense My pictures show that the traces of her residences are still visible in the rural landscape You can map out your own route along the places which are reminiscent of Anne Frank I got permission for visiting and taking pictures of the inside locations from the organisations concerned My visits to those locations were carried out respectfully whilst actively taking into consideration the applicable rules of the locations I hope that my picture book inspires the reader and viewer to delve deeper into the history of the Holocaust and Anne Frank and that it contributes to the mutual tolerance and understanding between people and cultures Anne Frank

The life story of Anne Frank set chronologically against the significant events of the Holocaust e.g. Kristallnacht, the Kindertransports and D Day. Spanning Anne's short life from 1929 to 1945 and the early rise of Hitler to the liberation of the concentration camps this highly moving account examines both the fate of the Frank family and the wider picture of the Holocaust.
