A Post Liberal Peace Routledge Studies In Peace And Conflict Resolution:

A Post-Liberal Peace Oliver Richmond, 2012-08-21 This book examines how the liberal peace experiment of the post Cold War environment has failed to connect with its target populations which have instead set about transforming it according to their own local requirements Liberal peacebuilding has caused a range of unintended consequences These emerge from the liberal peace's internal contradictions from its claim to offer a universal normative and epistemological basis for peace and to offer a technology and process which can be applied to achieve it When viewed from a range of contextual and local perspectives these top down and distant processes often appear to represent power rather than humanitarianism or emancipation Yet the liberal peace also offers a civil peace and emancipation These tensions enable a range of hitherto little understood local and contextual peacebuilding agencies to emerge which renegotiate both the local context and the liberal peace framework leading to a local liberal hybrid form of peace This might be called a post liberal peace Such processes are examined in this book in a range of different cases of peacebuilding and statebuilding since the end of the Cold War This book will be of interest to students of peacebuilding peacekeeping peace and conflict studies international organisations and IR Security Studies

Practicing Post-Liberal Peacebuilding Julian Graef, 2015-07-20 Practicing Post Liberal Peacebuilding engages with one of the central debates in Peace and Conflict Studies and International Relations The book's innovation lies in the introduction and application of practice theory to develop a critical methodology for mapping the everyday practices of post liberal hybridity in Liberia

Peace in International Relations Oliver P. Richmond, 2020-01-06 This updated and revised second edition examines the conceptualisation and evolution of peace in International Relations IR theory The book examines the concept of peace and its usage in the main theoretical debates in IR including realism liberalism constructivism critical theory and post structuralism as well as in the more direct debates on peace and conflict studies It explores themes relating to culture development agency and structure not just in terms of representations of IR and of peace but in terms of the discipline of IR itself The work also specifically explores the recent mantras associated with liberal and neoliberal versions of peace which appear to have become foundational for much of the mainstream literature and for doctrines for peace and development in the policy world Analysing war has often led to the dominance and mitigation of violence as a basic assumption in and response to the problems of IR This study aims to redress this negative balance by arguing that the discipline offers a rich basis for the study of peace which has advanced significantly over the last century or so It also proposes innovative theoretical dimensions of the study of peace with new chapters discussing post colonial and digital developments This book will be of great interest to students of peace and conflict studies politics and IR

Peace in International Relations Oliver Richmond, 2003-03-19 This book examines the way in which peace is conceptualized in IR theory a topic which has until now been largely overlooked The volume explores the way peace has been implicitly conceptualized within the different strands of IR theory and in the policy world as exemplified through practices in the peacebuilding efforts since the end of the Cold War Issues addressed include the problem of how peace efforts become sustainable rather than merely inscribed in international and state level diplomatic and military frameworks The book also explores themes relating to culture development agency and structure It explores in particular the current mantras associated with the liberal peace which appears to have become a foundational assumption of much of mainstream IR and the policy world Analyzing war has often led to the dominance of violence as a basic assumption in and response to the problems of international relations This book aims to redress the balance by arguing that IR now in fact offers a rich basis for the study of peace

Peace Oliver P. Richmond, 2023-01-24 Very Short Introductions Brilliant Sharp Inspiring The concept of peace has always attracted radical thought action and practices It has been taken to mean merely an absence of overt violence or war but in the contemporary era it is often used interchangeably with peacemaking peacebuilding conflict resolution and statebuilding The modern concept of peace has therefore broadened from the mere absence of violence to something much more complicated In this Very Short Introduction Oliver Richmond explores the evolution of peace in practice and in theory exploring our modern assumptions about peace and the various different interpretations of its applications This second edition has been theoretically and empirically updated and introduces a new framework to understand the overall evolution of the international peace architecture ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

Locally Based Civil Conflict Transformation Between Partnership and Power Imbalance Samantha Ruppel, 2025-02-12 This book examines the processes and dynamics of cooperation between different actors in civil peace service projects in Kenya Sierra Leone and Liberia The joint handling of conflicts and peacebuilding challenges by local and international actors has a long tradition in German peace work and is becoming increasingly important in a globalized world Therefore the book explores the question relevant for both academia and peace practitioners to what extent an equal partnership can exist in the context of civil conflict transformation By focusing on the opportunities and challenges of cooperation the work succeeds in focusing on everyday activities analyzing the actual processes and frictions of peace work and making a valuable contribution to critical peace research and the discussion of hybridity and friction

Beyond Liberal Peacebuilding Elisa Randazzo, 2017-06-14 This book examines the logic behind the shifts and paradigm changes within the scholarship on peacebuilding In particular the book is concerned with examining if and how these shifts have significantly altered how we think about peacebuilding beyond the liberal peacebuilding paradigm To do so the book engages with the logic of critique that has led to the emergence of different theoretical approaches to peacebuilding from hands on institutionalisation to the local turn It uses the case of Kosovo to understand how a lessons learnt approach facilitated the shift towards more invasive and intrusive forms of peacebuilding first However it is also crucial to understanding the recent local turn as the rise of local ownership discourses in Kosovo is fundamentally tied to the critiques of extensive international missions and the associated resistance and marginalisation of local agency The book examines the implications of the framing of everyday agency in order to assess the extent to which these bottom up approaches have been able to by pass the problems attributed to the liberal peace approach It argues that despite its critical and radical intentions the local turn retains certain foundational modernist and positivist qualities that have so far characterised the very mainstream approaches these critiques claim to transcend This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding statebuilding peace and conflict studies security studies and International Relations in general

Liberal Peacebuilding and Global Governance David Roberts, 2011-03 This book examines the limits to cosmopolitan liberal peacebuilding caused by its preoccupation with the values and assumptions of neoliberal global governance The peace people experience is determined by the processes privileged in peacebuilding This book is about four things that shape the processes involved First it is a critique of orthodox postconflict peacebuilding It takes the position that the present approach although seemingly hegemonic is routinely ignored or manipulated by elites and society and converted into a miasma that to some degree wastes the energies and opportunities involved Second it is about alternatives which invoke the kind of peace people might seek in postconflict places if they had more control over the process of peacebuilding a notion referred to here as popular peace It is thus not the kind of critical work that some describe as reflexive anti liberalism Rather it seeks alternatives that are grounded in the lives of people in postconflict spaces and which also reflect some of the essential values of Liberalism Third it is about the role of both informal and formal actors institutions and practices in the creation of such a peace For instance it is concerned with the legitimacy of informal practices that lie beyond Liberal tolerance and which are vital in the pursuit of everyday peace Fourth it is about a transversal rather than vertical or hierarchical relationship of global and local governance in securing a peace that reflects the needs and values of both In short this work is a response to the substantial inconsistencies that appear between peacebuilding rhetoric and everyday outcomes in postconflict places This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding post conflict statebuilding conflict studies global governance and International Relations in general

Securitising Decolonisation Julius Heise, 2024-05-23 With the right to petition the United Nations the Ewe and Togoland unification movement enjoyed a privilege unmatched by other dependent peoples Using language conveying insecurity the movement seized the international spotlight ensuring that the topic of unification dominated the UN Trusteeship System for over a decade Yet its vociferous securitisations fell silent due to colonial distortion leaving unification unfulfilled thus allowing the seeds of secessionist conflict to grow At the intersection of postcolonial theory and security studies Julius Heise presents a theory driven history of Togoland s path to independence offering a crucial lesson for international statebuilding efforts Ex-Combatants and International Statebuilding Nathalie Duclos,2024-06-07 This book examines the international efforts to regulate violence in Kosovo since 1999 through the United Nations Mission in Kosovo UNMIK and covers 15 years of international presence The book analyses the process of implementing international policies from a sociological perspective and looks at the adaptations and arrangements of public policies achieved through the transactions of international actors with local actors who are at the heart of policy implementation In particular it analyses the disarmament demobilisation and reintegration of combatants DDR programme and shows the extent to which it was co produced with Kosovo Liberation Army KLA leaders co opted by international administrators These analyses take the opposite view to the work that considers ex combatants as spoilers In Kosovo the combatant leaders acted as peace brokers facilitating demobilisation and exercising disciplinary control over rank and file combatants Their position as brokers helped them to take control of the new state being built under international administration This book shows the importance of the relationship between ex combatants and the state and illustrates the multiplicity of their possible trajectories including political ones To elucidate the dynamics of co production in shaping DDR policies and hybridising international policies as well as in state formation the book relies on around a hundred interviews with ex combatants of the KLA and with international personnel as well as on the archives of international organisations and observations in the field This book will be of much interest to students of international statebuilding peace and conflict studies Balkan politics and international relations Post-Liberal Peace Transitions Richmond Oliver P.

Richmond,2016-01-18 Why is it that states emerging from intervention peacebuilding and statebuilding over the last 25 years appear to be failed by design This study explores the interplay of local peace agency with the neo liberal peacebuilding project And it looks at how far can local peace formation dynamics can go to counteract the forces of violence and play a role in rebuilding the state consolidate peace processes and induce a more progressive form of politics By looking at local agency related to peace formation Oliver Richmond and Sandra Pogodda find answers to the pressing question of how large scale peacebuilding or statebuilding may be significantly improved and made more representative of the lives needs rights and ambitions of its subjects Liberal Peacebuilding and Global Governance David Wesley Roberts,2011 This book examines the limits to cosmopolitan liberal peacebuilding caused by its preoccupation with the values and assumptions of neoliberal global governance The peace people experience is determined by the processes privileged in peacebuilding This book is about four things that shape the processes involved First it is a critique of orthodox postconflict peacebuilding It takes the position that the present approach although seemingly hegemonic is routinely ignored or manipulated by elites and society and converted into a miasma that to some degree wastes the energies and opportunities involved Second it is about alternatives which invoke the kind of peace people might seek in postconflict places if they had more control over the process of peacebuilding a notion referred to here as popular peace It is thus not the kind of critical work that some describe as reflexive anti liberalism Rather it seeks alternatives that are grounded in the lives of people in postconflict spaces and which also reflect some of the essential values of Liberalism Third it is about the role of both informal and formal actors institutions and practices in the creation of such a peace For instance it is concerned with the legitimacy of informal practices that lie beyond Liberal tolerance and which are vital in the pursuit of everyday peace Fourth it is about a transversal rather than vertical or hierarchical relationship of global and local governance in securing a peace that reflects the needs and values of both In short this work is a response to the substantial inconsistencies that appear between peacebuilding rhetoric and everyday outcomes in postconflict places This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding post conflict statebuilding conflict studies global governance and International Relations in general Routledge Handbook of Peacebuilding Roger Mac Ginty, 2013-02-15 This new Routledge Handbook offers a comprehensive state of the art overview of the meanings and uses of the term peacebuilding and presents cutting edge debates on the practices conducted in the name of peacebuilding The term peacebuilding has had remarkable staying power Other terms such as conflict resolution have waned in popularity while the acceptance and use of the term peacebuilding has grown to the extent that it is the hegemonic and over arching term for many forms of mediation reconciliation and strategies to induce peace Despite this however it is rarely defined and often used to mean different things to different audiences Routledge Handbook of Peacebuilding aims to be a one stop comprehensive resource on the literature and practices of contemporary peacebuilding The book is organised into six key sections Section 1 Reading peacebuilding Section 2 Approaches and cross cutting themes Section 3 Disciplinary approaches to peacebuilding Section 4 Violence and security Section 5 Everyday living and peacebuilding Section 6 The infrastructure of peacebuilding This new Handbook will be essential reading for students of peacebuilding mediation and post conflict reconstruction and of great interest to students of statebuilding intervention civil wars conflict resolution war and conflict studies and IR in general Deferring Peace in International Statebuilding Pol

Bargués-Pedreny, 2018-05-15 This book explores the last 25 years of international peacebuilding and recasts them as a growing crisis of confidence in universal ideas of peacebuilding and self government Since current peacebuilding interventions are abandoning domineering top down and linear methodologies and experimenting with context sensitive self reflexive and locally driven strategies the book makes two suggestions The first is that international policymakers are embracing some of the critiques of liberal peace For more than a decade scholarly critiques have pointed out the need to focus on everyday dynamics and local initiatives and resistances to liberal peace in order to enable hybrid and long term practice based strategies of peacebuilding Now the distance between the policy discourse and critical frameworks has narrowed The second suggestion is that in stepping away from liberal peace a transvaluation of peacebuilding values is occurring Critiques are beginning to accept and valorise that international interventions will continuously fail to produce sensitive results The earlier frustrations with unexpected setbacks errors or contingencies are ebbing away Instead critiques normalise the failure to promote stability and peace This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding international intervention conflict resolution international organisations and security studies in general Liberal Peace Transitions Oliver P. Richmond, 2009-09-16 This book examines the nature of liberal peace the common aim of the international community's approach to post conflict statebuilding Adopting a particularly critical stance on this one size fits all paradigm it explores the process by breaking down liberal peace theory into its constituent parts democratisation free market reform and development human rights civil society and the rule of law Readers are provided with critically and theoretically informed empirical access to the technology of the liberal peacebuilding process particularly in regard to Cambodia Kosovo East Timor Bosnia and the Middle East Key Features critically interrogates the theory experience and current outcomes of liberal peacebuilding includes five empirically informed case studies Cambodia Kosovo East Timor Bosnia and the Middle East focuses on the key institutional aspects of liberal peacebuilding and key international actors assesses the local outcomes of liberal peacebuilding Mediation and Liberal Peacebuilding Mikael Eriksson, Roland Kostić, 2013-02-15 This book offers a state of the art examination of peacemaking looking at its theoretical assumptions empirical applications and its consequences Despite the wealth of research on external interventions and practices of Western peacebuilding many scholars tend to rely on findings in the so called post agreement phase of interventions As a result most mainstream peacebuilding literature pays limited or no attention to the linkages that exist between mediation practices in the negotiation phase and processes in the post peace agreement phase of intervention By linking the motives and practices of interveners during negotiation and implementation phases into a more integrated theoretical framework this book makes a unique contribution to the on going debate on the so called Western liberal models of peacebuilding Drawing upon in depth case studies from various different regions of the world including Bosnia Herzegovina Kosovo Afghanistan Sudan Ivory Coast Senegal and Sierra Leone this innovative volume examines a variety of political motives behind third party interventions thus challenging the very founding concept of mediation literature This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding statebuilding peacemaking war and conflict studies security studies and IR in general Routledge Companion to Peace and Conflict Studies Sean Byrne, Thomas Matyók, Imani Michelle Scott, Jessica Senehi, 2019-07-24 This Companion examines contemporary challenges in Peace and Conflict Studies PACS and offers practical solutions to these problems Bringing together chapters from new and established global scholars the volume explores and critiques the foundations of Peace and Conflict Studies in an effort to advance the discipline in light of contemporary local and global actors The book examines the following eight specific components of Peace and Conflict Studies Peace and conflict studies praxis Structure agency tension as it relates to social justice nonviolence and relationship building Gender masculinity and sexuality The role of partnerships and allies in racial ethnic and religious peacebuilding Culture and identity Critical and emancipatory peacebuilding International conflict transformation and peacebuilding Global responses to conflict It argues that new critical and emancipatory peacebuilding and conflict transformation strategies are needed to address the complex cultural economic political and social conflicts of the 21st century This book will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies peace studies conflict resolution transitional justice reconciliation studies social justice studies and international relations

Peace Figuration after International Intervention Gëzim Visoka, 2016-07-01 This book examines the adverse impacts of liberal peacebuilding in conflict affected societies It introduces peace figuration as a new analytical framework for studying the intentionality performativity and consequences of liberal peacebuilding The work challenges current theories and views and searches for alternative non conflicted research avenues that are suitable for understanding how peacebuilding intentions are made how different events shape peace outcomes and what are the consequences of peacebuilding interventions Drawing on detailed case studies of peacebuilding in Bosnia and Herzegovina Kosovo and Timor Leste the book argues that attempts to build peace often fail to achieve the intended outcomes A figural view of peacebuilding interventions shows that post conflict societies experience multiple episodes of success and failure in an unpredictable trajectory This book develops a relational sociology of peacebuilding impact which is crucial for overcoming static measurement of peacebuilding successes or failures It shows that international interventions can shape peace but importantly not always in the shape they intended This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding peacebuilding war and conflict studies security studies and IR

A Liberal Peace? Susanna Campbell, David Chandler, Meera Sabaratnam, 2011-11-10 Moving beyond the binary argument between those who buy into the aims of creating liberal democratic states grounded in free markets and rule of law and those who critique and oppose them this timely and much needed critical volume takes a fresh look at the liberal peace debate In doing so it examines the validity of this critique in contemporary peacebuilding and statebuilding practice through a multitude of case studies from Afghanistan to Somalia Sri Lanka to Kosovo Going further it investigates the underlying theoretical assumptions of liberal peacebuilding and statebuilding as well as providing new theoretical propositions for understanding current interventions Written by some of the most prominent scholars in the field alongside several new scholars making cutting edge contributions this is an essential contribution to a rapidly growing interdisciplinary area of study
