successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Bureau Men, Settlement Women Camilla Stivers,2000 Although the two intertwined at first the contributions of these settlement women to the development of the administrative state have been largely lost as the new field of public administration evolved from the research bureaus and diverged from social work Camilla Stivers now shows how public administration came to be dominated not just by science and business but also by masculinity calling into question much that is taken for granted about the profession and creating an alternative vision of public service The Classical Weekly ,1926 Thirteen Offprints from the Classical Review and the Classical Quarterly John Maxwell Edmonds,1908 The Independent Leonard Bacon,Joseph Parrish Thompson,Richard Salter Storrs,Joshua Leavitt,Henry Ward Beecher,Theodore Tilton,Henry Chandler Bowen,William Hayes Ward,Hamilton Holt,Fabian Franklin,Harold de Wolf Fuller,Christian Archibald Herter,1907 The Classical Journal ,1929 Creating a Democratic Public Kevin Mattson,2010-11 During America s Progressive Era at the beginning of the twentieth century democracy was more alive than it is today Social activists and intellectuals of that era formed institutions where citizens educated themselves about pressing issues and public matters While these efforts at democratic participation have largely been forgotten their rediscovery may represent our best hope for resolving the current crisis of democracy in the United States Mattson explores the work of early activists like Charles Zueblin who tried to advance adult education at the University of Chicago and Frederic Howe whose People s Institute sparked the nationwide forum movement He then turns to the social centers movement which began in Rochester New York in 1907 with the opening of public schools to adults in the evening as centers for debate over current issues Mattson tells how this simple program grew into a national phenomenon and cites its achievements and political ideals and he analyzes the political thought of activists within the movement notably Mary Parker Follett and Edward Ward to show that these intellectuals had a profound understanding of what was needed to create vigorous democratic practices Creating a Democratic Public challenges us to reconsider how we think about democracy by bringing us into critical dialogue with the past and exploring the work of yesterday s activists Combining historical analysis political theory and social criticism Mattson analyzes experiments in grassroots democracy from the Progressive Era and explores how we might foster more public involvement in political deliberation today
