Andrew: A funny thing happened to me when I was living in Poland. When I arrived there, I didn't know any Polish, and so my Polish flatmates always helped me, like when I needed to buy something.

Anyways, one day I needed to go into the city centre. As my flatmates were all watching a film on TV – and it was raining – I didn't want to ask them to come outside with me and help me buy a ticket for the train into town. So instead I asked them to tell me what to say at the street ticket to buy tickets into town and back. I practised saying it a couple of times, and they wrote it down on a piece of paper for me so I'd remember.

I left the flat and went to the ticket. An old woman was sitting inside, so I asked for two train tickets in Polish. She said something and made a face at me which told me that she had no idea what I was saying. So I said it again. Still no luck.

I realized I probably wasn't pronouncing it very well, but I was determined to buy those tickets. And when she saw that I was holding a piece of paper, she pointed at it so that she could see what I wanted. I didn't give it to her, but instead, tried one more time to ask for the tickets.

Finally, she gave a big smile and her eyes opened wide. 'Ah ha!' I thought, 'she understands me! I'm going to get my tickets after all.' She then gave me a magazine, a chocolate bar and a packet of toothpaste! I had to laugh, as my attempts to speak Polish had gone badly wrong. So in the end I showed her my piece of paper. I thought that if I wasn't able to make myself understood, then it was time to take a Polish language course. So I did. And I'm pleased to say that I can now buy tickets for the train!
