Susanna Lidström, 2015-06-19 The environmental challenges facing humanity in the twenty first century are not only acute and grave they are also unprecedented in kind complexity and scope Nonetheless or therefore the political response to problems such as climate change biodiversity loss and widespread pollution continues to fall short To address these challenges it seems clear that we need new ways of thinking about the relationship between humans and nature local and global and past present and future One place to look for such new ideas is in poetry designed to contain multiple levels of meaning at once challenge the imagination and evoke responses that are based on something more than scientific consensus and rationale This ecocritical book traces the environmental sensibilities of two Anglophone poets Nobel Prize winner Seamus Heaney 1939 2013 and British Poet Laureate Ted Hughes 1930 1998 Drawing on recent and multifarious developments in ecocritical theory it examines how Hughes's and Heaney's respective poetics interact with late twentieth century developments in environmental thought focusing in particular on ideas about ecology and environment in relation to religion time technology colonialism semiotics and globalisation This book is aimed at students of literature and environment the relationship between poetry and environmental humanities and the poetry of Ted Hughes or Seamus Heaney The Contemporary Review, 1879 Studies in Medieval Jewish Poetry Alessandro Guetta, Masha Itzhaki, 2009 Analysing well known Hebrew medieval poets from a new refreshing standpoint and focusing on less known authors and periods this book shows the maturity of the research in this field Written in English and French the articles make the Hebrew texts more easily available to scholars of comparative literature Journal of Theological Studies, 1901 Poets and Problems George Willis Cooke, 1893 Meanings of Change in the Poetry of Nineteenth-century Java John Anthony Day, 1982 The Bookman, 1918 The Literature of All Nations and All Ages Julian Hawthorne, John Russell Young, John Porter Lamberton, 1900 The Beginnings of Poetry Francis Barton Gummere, 2021-11-05 In The Beginnings of Poetry Francis Barton Gummere embarks on an insightful exploration of the origins and evolution of poetic expression tracing its roots from prehistoric traditions to the intricate forms of early literature Gummere's meticulous scholarship is evident in his analysis of linguistic structures thematic elements and the socio cultural contexts that shaped early poetry Employing a blend of critical examination and engaging narrative he reveals the organic relationship between oral traditions and the written word while deftly situating these developments within the broader literary canon Francis Barton Gummere 1862 1932 was a renowned scholar of English philology and literature deeply influenced by his academic background in both classic and contemporary literary studies His dedication to understanding poetry extends beyond mere textual analysis Gummere's passion for language and folklore is reflected in his commitment to capturing the essence of human experience as conveyed through poetic forms This book serves as a testament to his belief that poetry is not merely an art form but a vital aspect of cultural heritage and expression For readers The Beginnings of Poetry is an indispensable resource that illuminates the significance
