This book eases some of the apprehensions associated with parents communicating their child's behaviour, daily living patterns and food rituals to a person who is not familiar with the child. Broken into five sections, the first section describes how parents can document their child's medical issues, preferences, skill levels and other information. The second section consists of short handouts that can help respite workers understand general topics such as the importance of routines or relaxation strategies. In the third section, case studies illustrate, for example, how information about behaviour and positive behaviour supports might be shared in a written format between a parent and respite worker. Section 4 contains blank forms for parents to use for paper and pencil preparation of information material. In addition, an accompanying CD allows parents to use their computer to prepare the information sheets and to print the supplementary handouts. Updating information is especially easy when the computer option is used.
