Development Aid—Populism and the End of the Neoliberal Agenda Viktor Jakupc, 2017-12-04 This volume examines the impact of the Trump presidency on development aid It starts out by describing the rise of national populism the political landscape and the reasons for rejection of the political establishment both under Trump and internationally Next it gives a historical political overview of development aid in the post WW II era and discusses the dominant Washington Consensus doctrine and its failure It then provides a critique of the Official Development Assistance ODA discourse and reviews the political economy of ODA the discourse and the conditionalities that are barriers to socio economic development The final chapters explore the question of Trumponomics as an alternative to the global neoliberal ODA and the potential impact of Trumponomics on ODA The book concludes with thoughts on the potential future directions for ODA within the ideals of Trumponomics and national populism

Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid Viktor Jakupc, Max Kelly, Jonathan Makuwira, 2020-04-23 This edited book provides a contemporary critical and thought provoking analysis of the internal and external threats to Western multilateral development finance in the twenty first century It draws on the expertise of scholars with a range of backgrounds providing a critical exploration of the neoliberal multilateral development aid The contributions focus on how Western institutions have historically dominated development aid and juxtapose this hegemony with the recent challenges from right wing populist and the Beijing Consensus ideologies and practices This book argues that the rise of right wing populism has brought internal challenges to traditional powers within the multilateral development system External challenges arise from the influence of China and regional development banks by providing alternatives to established Western dominated aid sources and architecture From this vantagepoint Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid puts forward new ideas for addressing the current global social political and economic challenges concerning multilateral development aid This book will be of interest to researchers academics and

The Human Rights Principle of Indivisibility Dorothea Anthony,2025-09-24 The indivisibility principle holds that all human rights are equally important and should be respected in equal measure This book provides a comprehensive explanation and analysis of indivisibility its meaning s history ideological significance benefits and shortfalls In this way the work brings indivisibility into the realm of critical thought that the principle of universality for example has long occupied The work examines representations of indivisibility across multiple legal and academic sources from the last several decades in which interest in indivisibility and human rights has grown exponentially It lucidly details how indivisibility has been used to legitimise the human rights project and fortify associated social campaigns It illustrates the human rights community s sincere enthusiasm for indivisibility But it also questions the politics behind the renewed promotion of indivisibility and its declared goals The book is structured according to these goals or social functions that indivisibility has come to take on since it was popularised at the World Conference on Human Rights In addressing the functions of indivisibility the book uncovers fascinating dynamics underpinning the principle and mainstream human rights theory in general It reveals a paradox in which contemporary indivisibility both challenges and supports the traditional human rights catalogue and the social system out of which the principle arose It asks whether persisting social contradictions and divided interests in the post Cold War world might weaken the moral claims to a new undividedness of rights and lead to the conclusion that we should be more realistic about how human rights law and policy have evolved and what they have to offer The book will be of interest to academics researchers and policy makers working in the areas of human rights studies international law political science and the humanities
