Concrete Solutions Michael Grantham, 2016-09-19 Concrete Solutions contains the contributions from some 30 countries to Concrete Solutions the 6th International Conference on Concrete Repair Thessaloniki Greece 20-23 June 2016. Strengthening and retrofitting are major themes in this volume with NDT and electrochemical repair following closely, discussing the latest advances and technologies in concrete repair. The book brings together some interesting and challenging theoretical approaches and questions if we really understand and approach such topics as corrosion monitoring correctly. Concrete Solutions is an essential reference work for those working in the concrete repair field from engineers to architects and from students to clients. The Concrete Solutions Series of international conferences on concrete repair began in 2003 with a conference held in St Malo France in association with INSA Rennes. Subsequent conferences have seen the Series partnering with the University of Padua Italy in 2009, with TU Dresden Germany in 2011 and with Queen's University Belfast Northern Ireland in 2014. In 2016 Thessaloniki Greece hosted the conference partnering with both Aristotle University of Thessaloniki AUTH and Democritus University of Thrace DUTH. The next conference in the series will be held in 2019 in Istanbul. Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1992. OAR Index of Research Results, 1967. Space Insurance: International Legal Aspects Katarzyna Malinowska, 2017-03-15 Insurance related to outer space activities has been around since the 1960s but has become vastly more significant with the increased commercial use of satellites. This book focuses on the legal aspects of space insurance in the contractual context, analysing space risk as well as the insurance terms used on the market. It offers the first in-depth coverage both practical and theoretical of space insurance from an international law perspective. Attending throughout to the important and problematic distinction between the space segment upstream and ground segment downstream in space law, this book deals comprehensively with such issues and topics as the following: the main hazards relating to space activities; the impact of new space technologies on the level of risk and insurance; the differing types of risks attributable to various entities in the context of insurable interest; aspects of the space risk allocation regimes and risk assessment; the impact of the five space treaties: the Outer Space Treaty, the Liability Convention, the Rescue Agreement, the Registration Convention and the Moon Agreement; on the subject and scope of insurance coverage; the advent of suborbital flight, commercial human space flight and space tourism in the context of emerging insurance risks; the problem of space debris; contractual aspects of space activities affecting the space insurance risks; basic notions such as outer space, space object in the context of space activities and related insurance coverage; basic insurance principles and their operation in the space insurance and the adjustment of losses and the settlement of disputes in space insurance. The author emphasises the need to understand the various insurance risks facing particular types of commercial space activities including pre-launch, launch, transportation, spaceflight, satellite communications, satellite navigation, satellite remote sensing and space station operation. Satellites are increasingly a vital part of many daily activities.

of contemporary society and the Earth's orbit is becoming ever more crowded heightening the risks of collision damage and claims. This thoroughly researched book will therefore be extremely useful to lawyers, policymakers and academics tasked with defining the scope of insurance coverage that accurately mirrors technological, contractual and legal reality. Its practical aspect will be of extraordinary value to insurance lawyers, underwriters and brokers. OAR Quarterly Index of Current

Responses at Mount St. Helens: Revisited 35 years after the 1980 Eruption Charles M. Crisafulli, Virginia H. Dale, 2018-01-30. This book builds on existing work exploring succession, disturbance ecology and the interface between geophysical and biological systems in the aftermath of the 1980 eruptions of Mount St. Helens. The eruption was dramatic both in the spatial extent of impacts and the range of volcanic disturbance types and intensities. Complex geophysical forces created unparalleled opportunities to study initial ecological responses and long-term succession processes that occur in response to a major contemporary eruption across a great diversity of ecosystems: lowland to alpine forests, meadows, lakes, streams and rivers. These factors make Mount St. Helens an extremely rich environment for learning about the ecology of volcanic areas and more generally about ecosystem response to major disturbance of many types, including land management. Lessons about ecological recovery at Mount St. Helens are shaping thought about succession, disturbance ecology, ecosystem management and landscape ecology. In the first five years after the eruption, several syntheses documented the numerous intensive studies of ecological recovery. The 2005 volume Ecological Responses to the 1980 Eruption of Mount St. Helens (Springer Publishing) was the first ecological synthesis since 1987 of the scores of ecological studies underway in the area. More than half of the world's published studies on plant and animal responses to volcanic eruptions have taken place at Mount St. Helens. The 25-year synthesis, which generally included investigations in data from 1980-2000, made it possible to more thoroughly analyze initial stages of ecological responses and to test the validity of early interpretations and the duration of early phenomena. And 35 years after the eruption, it is time for many of the scientists working in the first three-decade post-eruption period to pass the science baton to the next generation of scientists to work at Mount St. Helens and a synthesis at this time of transfer of responsibility to a younger cohort of scientists will be an enormous asset to the
