Wealth and the Material World in the Old English

Alfredian Corpus Amy Faulkner, 2023 A new materialistic reading of the Alfredian corpus drawing on diverse approaches from thing theory to Augustinian principles of use and enjoyment to uncover how these works explore the material world. The Old English prose translations traditionally attributed to Alfred the Great versions of Gregory's Regula pastoralis; Boethius' De consolatione philosophiae; Augustine's Soliloquia and the first fifty Psalms urge detachment from the material world but despite this its flotsam and jetsam from costly treasures to everyday objects abound within them. This book reads these original and inventive translations from a materialist perspective drawing on approaches as diverse as thing theory and Augustine's principles of use and enjoyment. By focussing on the material it offers a fresh interpretation of this group of translations bringing out their complex often contradictory relationship with the material world. It demonstrates that as in the poetic tradition wealth in Alfredian literature is not simply a tool to be used or something to be enjoyed in excess rather in moving away from these two static binaries it shows that wealth is a current flowing both horizontally as an exchange of gifts between humans and vertically as a salvific current between earth and heaven. The prose translations are situated in the context of Old English poetry including Beowulf, The Wanderer, The Seafarer, the Exeter Book Riddles and The Dream of the Rood.

Badon and the Early Wars for Wessex, circa 500 to 710 David Cooper, 2020-01-24 A thought provoking study of warfare in the Dark Ages in Great Britain and the origins of Wessex. David Cooper's book reappraises the evidence regarding the early battles for Wessex territory. It charts the sequence of battles from the c. AD 500 siege of Badon Hill in which the Britons defeated the first Saxon attempt to gain a foothold in Wessex territory to Langport in 710 which consolidated King Ine's position and pushed the Britons westwards. Discussion of the post Roman British and Germanic factions provides context and background to Badon Hill which is then covered in detail and disentangled from Arthurian legend. In considering how the opposing commanders are likely to have planned their campaigns enduring principles of military doctrine and tactics are discussed using examples from other periods to illustrate how these principles applied in Dark Ages Britain Going on to follow subsequent campaigns of the West Saxons in southern Britain a credible assessment is made of how these resulted in the establishment of a viable Wessex kingdom two centuries after Badon Grounded in the latest academic and archaeological evidence David Cooper offers a number of new insights and ideas Dictionary Catalogue American Numismatic Society.
