Resurgence , 2006 Witnessing a Wounded World Timothy Middleton, 2025-11-04 A crucial intervention at the intersection of ecotheology and trauma theology We are in the midst of a global ecological crisis At times the scale of the suffering involved can be hard to fully comprehend The whole planetary ecosystem feels out of kilter Meanwhile trauma theorists and society at large have become increasingly aware of the incidence of trauma in a growing variety of contexts In Witnessing a Wounded World Timothy Middleton asks what might be gained by viewing ecological suffering through the lens of trauma By bringing concepts and methodologies from trauma theology to bear on questions that arise within ecotheology Middleton engages a series of pressing questions

What kind of traumas are being precipitated by anthropogenic climate change and accelerating biodiversity loss What would it mean to envisage the Earth itself as traumatized And how might a Christian theologian respond From large scale deforestation and opencast mining to rampaging wildfires and fracturing ice sheets the Earth itself is subject to intense devastation Witnessing a Wounded World analyzes such phenomena in terms of three traumatic ruptures to communication to flesh and to time Drawing on practices of witnessing and the insights of deep incarnation Christologies Middleton proceeds to offer a theological account of this ecological trauma For Christians a model of Christic witnessing can bring the Earth's suffering to light As the first sustained treatment of ecological trauma to address the trauma of the Earth itself Witnessing a Wounded World makes a profound contribution to discussions of suffering faith and the present ecological emergency
