Politicians at Night Gonen Dori-Hacohen, Eean Grimshaw, Menno H. Reijven, 2024-02-19 Politicians at Night Interaction and Discourse on the Entertainment Political Interview studies the exchanges between presidential candidates and talk show hosts on broadcast late night shows in the United States. Gonen Dori-Hacohen, Eean Grimshaw, and Menno H. Reijven use various language and social interaction frameworks including membership categorization analysis, conversation analysis, narrative analysis, and semiotics. They develop a broad understanding of the Entertainment Political Interview (EPI) and cultural role. They discuss how politicians use pronouns to achieve inclusion and exclusion. Similarly, the authors demonstrate how and why the hosts ask softball questions. Unlike these two elements that create politics, the authors demonstrate how politicians use stories to present themselves like celebrities. They then demonstrate how politicians intersect with entertainment when they analyze one specific segment called Slow Jam from the News on The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon. The linking of the politician to entertainment is part of the final argument of the book where the authors critically examine the EPI as part of a myth since it vacates the politics of its original form while maintaining a facade of politics. EPI promotes a capitalist neoliberal ideology that is at the root of both entertainment and politics in the U.S.

Entertaining Politics Jeffrey P. Jones, 2010-12-28 In this completely revised and updated edition including eight new chapters, Jeffrey Jones charts the evolution and maturation of political entertainment television by examining The Daily Show with Jon Stewart, The Colbert Report, Politically Incorrect, Real Time with Bill Maher, and Michael Moore's TV Nation and The Awful Truth. This volume investigates how and why these shows have been central locations for the critique of political and economic power and an important resource for citizens during numerous political crises. In an age of Truthiness, fake news, and humorous political talk, have proven themselves viable forms of alternative reporting and critical means for ascertaining truth, and in the process, questioning the legitimacy of news media's role as the primary mediator of political life. The book also addresses the persistent claims that these programs have cynical effects and create misinformed young citizens, demonstrating instead how such programming provides for an informed, active, and meaningful citizenship. The new edition takes account of the many changes that have occurred in television and political culture since Entertaining Politics's initial release.

Censored 2017 Mickey Huff, Andy Lee Roth, Project Censored, 2016-12-13 The annual yearbook from Project Censored features the year's most underreported news stories, striving to unmask censorship, self-censorship, and propaganda in corporate-controlled media outlets. Featuring the top 25 most underreported stories as voted by scholars, journalists, and activists across the country and around the world, as well as chapters exploring timely issues from the previous year with more in-depth analysis.

Thinking Veganism in Literature and Culture Emelia Quinn, Benjamin Westwood, 2018-05-24 This collection explores what the social and philosophical aspects of veganism offer to critical theory. Bringing together leading and emerging scholars working in animal studies and critical animal studies, Thinking Veganism in Literature and Culture shows how the experience of being vegan and the conditions of thought fostered by veganism pose new questions for work across multiple disciplines Offering accounts of veganism which move beyond contemporary conceptualizations of it as a faddish dietary preference or set of proscriptions it explores the messiness and necessary contradictions involved in thinking about or practicing a vegan way of life By thinking through as well as about veganism the project establishes the value of a vegan mode of reading writing looking and thinking
