THE first act of the revolutionary drama on the continent of Europe has closed The powers that were before the hurricane of 1848 are again the powers that be and the more or less popular rulers of a day provisional governors triumvirs dictators with their tail of representatives civil commissioners military commissioners prefects judges generals officers and soldiers are thrown upon foreign shores and transported beyond the seas to England or America there to form new governments in partibus infidelium European committees central committees national committees and to announce their advent with proclamations quite as solemn as those of any less imaginary potentates A more signal defeat than that undergone by the continental revolutionary party or rather parties upon all points of the line of battle cannot be imagined But what of that Has not the struggle of the British middle classes for their social and political supremacy embraced forty eight that of the French middle classes forty years of unexampled struggles And was their triumph ever nearer than at the very moment when restored monarchy thought itself more firmly settled than ever The times of that superstition which attributed revolutions to the ill will of a few agitators have long passed away Everyone knows nowadays that wherever there is a revolutionary convulsion there must be some social want in the background which is prevented by outworn institutions from satisfying itself The want may not yet be felt as strongly as generally as might ensure immediate success but every attempt at forcible repression will only bring it forth stronger and stronger until it bursts its fetters If then we have been beaten we have nothing else to do but to begin again from the beginning      Revolution and Counter-Revolution Or Germany In 1848 Friedrich Engels,Karl Marx,2014-05 2014 Reprint of 1896 Edition Full facsimile of the original edition not reproduced with Optical Recognition Software In 1851Marx was asked to write a series of articles on the German Revolution of 1848 These articles were written by Engels at the request of Marx who was then busy with his economic studies and felt besides that he had not yet attained fluency in English Engels wrote the articles in Manchester where he was employed and sent them on to Marx in London to be edited and dispatched to New York Marx s youngest daughter Eleanor Marx Aveling collected these articles and put them into book form in 1896 with the title Revolution and Counter Revolution or Germany in 1848 Each of the original articles were edited by Aveling and appeared as chapters The work is an account of what happened in Prussia Austria and other German states during 1848 describing the impact on both middle class and working class aspirations and on the idea of German unification Chapters
