Japanese Love Hotels Sarah Chaplin,2007-04-30

Drawing on theories of place consumption and identity Sarah Chaplin details the evolution of the love hotel in urban Japan since the 1950s Love hotels emerged in the late 1950s following a ban of licensed prostitution then were extremely popular in the 1970s were then legislated against in the 1980s and are now perceived as leisure fashion or boutique hotels

Representing a timely opportunity to capture and evaluate the dying manifestations of an important era in Japanese social and cultural history this book provides a critical account of the love hotel as a unique typology It considers its spatial aesthetic semiotic and locational denotations and connotations which results in a richly nuanced cultural reading The love hotel is presented as a key indicator of social and cultural change in post war Japan and as such this book will be of interest to a wide and international readership including students of Japanese culture society and architecture forms of intimacy From declarations of love on talk shows to televised dating games and marriage quiz shows television offers a panoply of wildly popular theatrical communications of love Does the neglecting of traditional communication media such as love letters and the telephone cause the intermingling of intimacy with the public sphere and hence the abrogation of it From the disciplines of sociology history cultural and media studies and linguistics this book offers answers to this question by analyzing and discussing new media from various perspectives Contributions by Eva Illouz Joachim R H flich Friedrich
