Office of Educational Research and Improvement, Far West Laboratory for Educational Research and Development, 1993 Creating and Sustaining Online Professional Learning Communities Joni K. Falk, Brian Drayton, 2015-04-25 This volume presents the work of trailblazing researchers and developers of electronic communities for professional learning. It illuminates the essential work behind the scenes in building successful online communities and scaffolding site interactions including content selection, creation and management, administrative structures, tools and interactive functionalities, the facilitation of discourse and emergent subcommunities and the development of online leadership. While each of the authors is well versed in Web site design, new technologies and collaborative Web tools, their work is deeply influenced and informed by scholarship which has unfolded over the last three decades about how professional learning takes place, particularly for math and science educators. The communities and authors featured provide different forms of online professional development for university professors, K-12 teachers and administrators among others. Their insights will be of interest to anyone designing, sustaining or studying electronic learning environments regardless of the specific subject matter. Contributors: Sasha A Barab, Bertram Chip Bruce, Susan J Doubler, Soo Young Lee, Flora McMartin, Jon Obuchowski, Andee Rubin, Rebecca K Scheckler and Wesley Shumar. Creating and Sustaining Online Professional Learning Communities explores the varied, conflicting, productive and unexpected ways that online communities can contribute to teacher professional development and offers concrete solutions. From the Foreword by Marcia C Linn, University of California Berkeley. There's a lot to be learned from these insightful reflections from pioneers about designing and operating online learning communities for mathematics and science educators as they look behind the scenes at the human intuitions, decisions, social actions and redesigns that have kept these communities in productive motion.
