Test First Model-Driven Development Bartlett A. Shappee,2012 Abstract Test Driven Development TDD Model Driven Development MDD and Test Case Generation with their associated practices and tools each in their own right promise to deliver robust higher quality code more economically than other approaches These process are not mutually exclusive but are not typically used together This thesis develops a combined approach using complimentary aspects of each of the above three process Test cases are described generated and then injected back into the model which is then used to produce the test and production code We have enhanced a model driven tool to support the approach adding a test case generator capable of understanding augmented MDD software model and utilizing the constraints captured in our test centric language to generate model level test cases back into the model Our results show that with a reduction in overall effort one can produce a tested model based system in which its test and implementation for multiple platforms such as C and Java using one of multiple test xUnit frameworks

Analysis and Quantification of Test Driven Development Approach ,2002 Software industry is increasingly becoming more demanding on development schedules and resources Often software production deals with ever changing requirements and with development cycles measured in weeks or months To respond to these demands and still produce high quality software over years software practitioners have developed a number of strategies One of the more recent one is Test Driven Development TDD This is an emerging object oriented development practice that purports to aid in producing high quality software quickly TDD has been popularized through the Extreme Programming XP methodology TDD proponents profess that for small to mid size software the technique leads to quicker development of higher quality code Anecdotal evidence supports this However until now there has been little quantitative empirical support for this TDD claim The work presented in this thesis is concerned with a set of structured TDD experiments on very small programs with pair programmers Programmers were both students and professionals In each programmer category students and professionals one group used TDD and the other control group a waterfall like software development approach The experiments provide some interesting observations regarding TDD When TDD was used both student and professional TDD developers appear to achieve higher code quality as measured using functional black box testing The TDD student pairs passed 16% more test cases while TDD professional pair passed 18% more test cases than the their corresponding control groups However professional TDD developer pairs did spent about 16% more time on development It was not established whether the increase in the quality was due to extra development time or due to the TDD development process itself On the other hand the student experiments were time limited Both the TDD and the non TDD student programmers had to complete the assignment in 75 minutes Professional programmers took ab
