The Minjian Avant-Garde Chang Tan,2024-02-15 The Minjian Avant Garde studies how experimental artists in China mixed with brought changes to and let themselves be transformed by minjian the volatile and diverse public of the post Mao era Departing from the usual emphasis on art institutions global markets or artists communities Chang Tan proposes a new analytical framework in the theories of socially engaged art that stresses the critical agency of participants the affective functions of objects and the versatility of the artists in diverse sociopolitical spheres

Drawing from hitherto untapped archival materials and interviews with the artists Tan challenges the views of Chinese artists as either dissidents or conformists to the regime and sees them as navigators and negotiators among diverse political discourses and interests She questions the fetishization of marginalized communities among practitioners of progressive art and politics arguing that the members of minjian are often more complex defiant and savvy than the elites would assume The Minjian Avant Garde critically assesses the rise of populism in both art and politics and show that minjian could constitute either a democratizing or a coercive force This book was published with generous support from the George Dewey and Mary J Krumrine Endowment

New Export China Alex Burchmore,2023-06-20 Why do so many contemporary Chinese artists use porcelain in their work In New Export China Alex Burchmore presents a deep dive into a unique genre of ceramic art to describe a framework for a broader art practice Focusing on the work of four artists from the 1990s through the 2010s Liu Jianhua Ai Weiwei Ah Xian and Sin ying Ho Burchmore reveals how the materiality of ceramics has been used to highlight

China's role in global trade and to explore the function of this medium as a vessel for the transmission of Chinese art culture and ideas. From its historical pedigree and transcultural relevance to its material allure and anthropomorphic resonance, porcelain offers artists a unique way to move between the global and the intimate, the mass produced and the handmade, and the foreign and the domestic. By dissecting both the legacy of porcelain export and current networks of exchange, Burchmore ultimately demonstrates why this ceramic practice is crucial to understanding the development of Chinese contemporary art.

Sensible Politics William A. Callahan, 2020-01-08. Visual images are everywhere in international politics. But how are we to understand them? In Sensible Politics, William A. Callahan uses his expertise in theory and filmmaking to explore not only what visuals mean but also how visuals can viscerally move and connect us in affective communities of sense. The book's rich analysis of visual images—photographs, film art, and visual artifacts—maps veils, walls, gardens, cyberspace, shows how critical scholarship needs to push beyond issues of identity and security to appreciate the creative politics of social ordering and world ordering. Here sensible politics isn't just sensory but looks beyond icons and ideology to the affective politics of everyday life. It challenges our Eurocentric understanding of international politics by exploring the meaning and impact of visuals from Asia and the Middle East. Sensible Politics offers a unique approach to politics that allows us to not only think visually but also feel visually and creatively act visually for a multisensory appreciation of politics.

Ai Weiwei: Sunflower Seeds Juliet Bingham, 2013-09-05. Born in Beijing in 1957, Ai Weiwei is one of the most influential artists at work today and has exhibited widely in Asia, Europe, and North America. He is the first artist living and working in the Asia Pacific region to be commissioned as part of The Unilever Series to create an artwork for the vast Turbine Hall at Tate Modern. Ai Weiwei has said, "liberty is about the right to question everything." His works in a wide range of media are characterized by social and political engagement and a constantly enquiring mind. Whether as an artist, curator, critic, designer or architect, he has played a key part in contemporary Chinese art and culture of the past two decades, not least through his collaboration with architects Herzog de Meuron in designing the Bird's Nest stadium for the 2008 Beijing Olympics. This book provides important insights into the creative processes of this exciting and dynamic contemporary artist. The ebook includes two specially made films.

Ai Weiwei Bob Bloomfield, Marcello Dantas, Robert Macfarlane, 2019. Sculptures in the field of tension between industrial production and nature. Ai Weiwei, b. Beijing 1957, lives and works in Cambridge and Berlin. He is one of the best known conceptual artists in the world today. His installations and sculptures turn the spotlight on global ills. The sprawling iron sculptures in his new series titled Roots are casts of the root systems of the Pequi tree, a critically endangered species native to Brazil. The artist discovered these giant trees which are over a century old during a trip through the rainforest of Bahia and first assembled them in sculptural compositions for the exhibition Raiz at the OCA Pavilion in São Paulo 2018. After the show closed, molds were made of the wooden sculptures that served to produce these cast iron replicas. The result is an imposing ensemble that raises urgent questions concerning the consequences of industrialization and globalization. Alarmed by the rapid destruction of tropical forests, Ai Weiwei has created a body of work that squarely confronts the repercussions of climate change. The book documents the genesis of the colossal root sculptures. Essays by Bob Bloomfield, Marcello Dantas, Robert Macfarlane, Lilia Moritz Schwarcz, Peter Klaus Schuster, Günther Vogt, and Christina Yu explore the works from a wide variety of angles, drawing on anthropology and sociology, Chinese and European history, botany, and ecology.

Ai Weiwei Dieter Buchhart, Elsy Lahner, Klaus Albrecht Schröder, 2022-03. A critical examination of the human condition and artistic responsibility through the eyes of Ai Weiwei. Internationally renowned for his multimedia work as an artist activist, Ai Weiwei has become one of the foremost political artists today. Ai Weiwei: In Search of Humanity offers the reader an in-depth examination of the aspect of humanity and artistic responsibility in Ai Weiwei's work. The catalog includes key works from all phases of the artist's career, focusing on works that shed light on themes that have long compelled him: surveillance, censorship, human rights, freedom of expression, the global refugee crisis, radical responsibility, the power of beauty, and the truth of poetry. Guided by these concerns, it offers new perspectives to understand the relevance of Ai Weiwei's artistic language. It encompasses a wide range of art historical paradigms, such as the readymade, alongside more radical activist strategies, all aimed at exploring the extremes of the contemporary human condition on a global scale.

Ai Weiwei's Blog Ai Weiwei, 2011-03-18. Manifestos and immodest proposals from China's most famous artist and activist, culled from his popular blog, shut down by Chinese authorities in 2009. In 2006, even though he could barely type, China's most famous artist started blogging. For more than three years, Ai Weiwei turned out a steady stream of scathing social commentary, criticism of government policy, thoughts on art and architecture, and autobiographical writings. He wrote about the Sichuan earthquake and posted a list of the schoolchildren who died because of the government's tofu dredging. He reminisced about Andy Warhol and the East Village art scene, described the irony of being investigated for fraud by the Ministry of Public Security, made a modest proposal for tax collection. Then, on June 1, 2009, Chinese authorities shut down the blog. This book offers a collection of Ai's notorious online writings, translated into English, the most complete public documentation of the original Chinese blog, available in any language. The New York Times called Ai a figure of Warholian celebrity. He is a leading figure on the international art scene, a regular in museums and biennials, but in China he is a manifold and controversial presence: artist, architect, curator, social critic, justice seeker. He was a consultant on the design of the famous Bird's Nest stadium, but called for an Olympic boycott; he received a Chinese Contemporary Art lifetime achievement award in 2008, but was beaten by the police in connection with his citizen investigation of earthquake casualties.
