

The image shows the front cover of a book. The cover is a deep red color with a fine, woven texture. In the center, there is an embossed floral design. The design features a central vertical stem with several leaves and a large, multi-petaled flower at the top. The stem extends downwards, flanked by two smaller, pointed leaves. The text 'RUDYARD KIPLING' is embossed in a serif font, centered horizontally across the middle of the cover, partially overlaid by the floral design.

American Notes Rudyard Kipling, 2013-12-01 It is hardly fair to Mr Kipling to call American Notes first impressions for one reading them will readily see that the impressions are superficial little thought being put upon the writing They seem super sarcastic and would lead one to believe that Mr Kipling is antagonistic to America in every respect This however is not true These Notes aroused much protest and severe criticism when they appeared in 1891 and are considered so far beneath Mr Kipling's real work that they have been nearly suppressed and are rarely found in a list of his writings

Literary Journalism in British and American Prose Doug Underwood, 2019-05-10 The debate surrounding fake news versus real news is nothing new From Jonathan Swift's work as an acerbic anonymous journal editor turned novelist to reporter Mark Twain's hoax stories to Mary Ann Evans literary reviews written under her pseudonym George Eliot famous journalists and literary figures have always mixed fact imagination and critical commentary to produce memorable works Contrasting the rival yet complementary traditions of literary or new journalism in Britain and the U S this study explores the credibility of some of the great works of English literature

The Cambridge History of Victorian Literature Kate Flint, 2012-03-01 This collaborative History aims to become the standard work on Victorian literature for the twenty first century Well known scholars introduce readers to their particular fields discuss influential critical debates and offer illuminating contextual detail to situate authors and works in their wider cultural and historical contexts Sections on publishing and readership and a chronological survey of major literary developments between 1837 and 1901 are followed by essays on topics including sexuality sensation cityscapes melodrama epic and economics Victorian writing is placed in its complex relation to the Empire Europe and America as well as to Britain's component nations The final chapters consider how Victorian literature and the period as a whole influenced twentieth century writers Original lucid and stimulating each chapter is an important contribution to Victorian literary studies Together the contributors create an engaging discussion of the ways in which the Victorians saw themselves and of how their influence has persisted

American Notes - Rudyard Kipling Rudyard Kipling, 2009-11-17 A passage from the book Two Kipling works combined in one volume This edition is optimized for the Kindle Excerpt In 1891 Mr Kipling met the young author Wolcott Balestier at that time connected with a London publishing house A strong attachment grew between the two and several months after their first meeting they came to Mr Balestier's Vermont home where they collaborated on The Naulahka A Story of West and East for which The Century paid the largest price ever given by an American magazine for a story The following year Mr Kipling married Mr Balestier's sister in London and brought her to America In an issue of the London World in April 1890 there appeared the following paragraph Two small rooms connected by a tiny hall afford sufficient space to contain Mr Rudyard Kipling the literary hero of the present hour the man who came from nowhere as he says himself and who a year ago was consciously nothing in the literary world Six months previous to this Mr Kipling then but twenty four years old had arrived in England from India to find that fame had preceded him He had already gained fame in India where scores of cultured and critical people after reading Departmental Ditties Plain Tales from the Hills and various other stories and verses had stamped him for a genius Fortunately for everybody who reads London interested and stimulated Mr Kipling and he settled down to writing The Record of Badalia Herodsfoot and his first novel The Light that Failed appeared in 1890 and 1891 then a collection of verse Life's Handicap being stories of Mine Own People was published simultaneously in London and New York City then followed more verse and so on through an unending series

American Notes Rudyard Kipling, 2015-11-03 Mr Kipling purchased from his brother in law Beatty Balestier a tract of land about three miles north of Brattleboro Vt and on this erected a house at a cost of nearly 50 000 which he named The Naulahka This was his home during his sojourn in America Here he wrote when in the mood and for recreation tramped abroad over the hills His social duties at this period were not arduous for to his home he refused admittance to all but tried friends He made a study of the Yankee country dialect and character for The Walking Delegate and while Captains Courageous the story of New England fisher life was before him he spent some time among the Gloucester fishermen with an acquaintance who had access to the household gods of these people
