

Chapter 26: Innate Immunity: Broadly Specific Host Defenses

26.1 Basic properties of the Immune System

The ability to resist an organism- Immunity

Nonspecific immunity = Innate immunity

Innate immunity is the ability to recognize and destroy a pathogen or any of its products. It does not need to have been exposed to this pathogen or its products antes

Adaptive immunity: an organism can develop the ability to recognize a particular pathogen and/or its products and destroy it

This type of immunity does require the individual to have been in contact with this pathogen or its products before (specificity)

The mechanisms of adaptive immunity are pointed to an individual molecular component of the pathogen (antigen)

26.2 Barriers to Pathogen Invasion

Natural host resistance

- the body's natural microbiota aids it in resistance of pathogens which is specific to the skin and in the gut

A microbes ability to cause disease is varied within different species (different weaknesses and strengths, every host is different) as is how different pathogens are able to infect different tissue types

There are different ways for different organisms to infect a host, through wound, eaten, inhaled etc.

The thickly mucus coated mucosal membranes act as barriers for infections as is the acidity within the stomach inhibiting growth of bacteria, and the acidic and saltiness of the skin

26.3 The Blood and Lymphatic Systems

Lymph is drained from extravascular tissues

Blood pumped through arteries and capillaries; returns from the body through the veins

Leukocytes and solutes pass from the blood into the lymphatic sys in the capillary beds

Lymph nodes: High lymphocytes and phagos

Cytokines influence stem cell development

Blood: plasma (proteins, other solutes) + cells; serum (not cells or clotting proteins)

26.4 Leukocyte Production and Diversity
