

Medication Administration

Basic Principles

- Medication administration is a dependent function & basic nursing function & involve skillful technique. It also involves consideration of your pt condition.
- When you give medication, safety has to be always in back of your mind.
- Consider pt condition before you medicate them!
- Nurse administering medication is expected to have a knowledge base concerning drugs, including brand name, generic name, name of drug, preparation, adverse effect, allergy, therapeutic effect of drug if any toxicity, if any tolerance
  - If there is also iatrogenic effect: disease that you get by the treatment. Disease induced by a treatment, & end up with diarrhea or super infection- that is iatrogenic.
  - * Ex: if given Tylenol & develop liver disease then called iatrogenic effect.
- Also need to know the physiological effect/factors affecting each drug action
  - be aware that the physician is the 1 that is going to prescribe the drug & convey their plan to the pharmacy
  - Pharmacy prepare drug
  - nurse administer drug

Know all of these for medications: Names classifications, side effects, & mode of action

Key terms:

- Pharmacokinetics: study of how medications enter the body, reach their site of action, metabolize, & exit the body.
- Absorption: occurs when medication molecules pass into the blood from the site of medication administration.
- Intravenous (IV) injection: produces the most rapid absorption because medications are available immediately when they enter the systemic circulation.
- Biotransformation: occurs under the influence of enzymes that detoxify (break down) & remove biologically activate chemicals.
  - ➡ Most biotransformation occurs within the liver, although the lungs, kidneys, blood, intestines also metabolize medications.
- Idiosyncratic reactions: Medications sometimes cause unpredictable effects such as idiosyncratic reaction, in which a pt overreacts or under reacts to a medication or has a reaction different from normal.
- Minimum effective concentration (MEC): is the plasma level of a medication below which the effect of the medication does not occur.
