The Monument Kanan Makiya, 2003-12-31 In Baghdad an enormous monument nearly twice the size of the Arc de Triomphe towers over the city Two huge forearms emerge from the ground clutching two swords that clash overhead Those arms are enlarged casts of those of Saddam Hussein showing every bump and follicle The Victory Arch celebrates a victory over Iran in their eight year long war that never happened This text is a study of the interplay between art and politics of how culture normally an unquestioned good can play into the hands of a power with devastating effects Kanan Makiya uses the culture invented by Saddam Hussein as a window into the nature of totalitarianism and shows how art can become the weapon of dictatorship Under Saddam Hussein culture connived in his evil this text explains how It should be useful reading for anyone concerned with the power of culture and the culture of power New Orleans Under Reconstruction Michael Sorkin, Carol McMichael Reese, Anthony Fontenot, 2014-05-20 When the levee system protecting New Orleans failed and was overtopped in August 2005 following the arrival of Hurricane Katrina 80 percent of the city was flooded with a loss of 103 000 homes in the metropolitan area At least 986 Louisiana residents died The devastation hit vulnerable communities the hardest the elderly the poor and African Americans The disaster exposed shocking inequalities in the city In response numerous urban plans and myriad architectural projects were proposed Nearly nine years later debates about planning and design for recovery renewal and resilience continue This bold challenging and informed book gathers together a panorama of responses from writers architects planners historians and activists including Mike Davis Rebecca Solnit Naomi Klein Denise Scott Brown and M Christine Boyer and searches for answers to one of the most important questions of our age How can we plan for the urban future creating more environmentally sustainable economically robust and socially equitable places to live A 2014 grant from the Graham Foundation for Advanced Studies in the Fine Arts supported in part the publication of this book Alison and Peter Smithson Alison Smithson, Peter Smithson, Beatriz Colomina, Design Museum (London, England), 2004 Striving to adapt the progressive ideas of the pre war modern movement to the specific human needs of post war reconstruction Alison and Peter Smithson were among the most influential and controversial architects of the latter half of the twentieth century As younger members of CIAM Congr s Internationaux d Architecture Moderne and as founding members of Team 10 they were at the heart of the debate on the future course of Modern Architecture Their polemics and designs addressing issues such as the rising consumer society and the orientation of urban planning laid the foundations for New Brutalism and the Pop Art Movement of the 1960s An important adaptation made by the Smithsons and their generation was the rejection of modernism s machine aesthetics The new notions of place and territory were juxtaposed to Le Corbusier s machine habiter To the Smithsons a house was a particular place which should be suited to its location and able to meet the ordinary requirements of everyday life and to accommodate its inhabitants individual patterns of use This exhibition examines the evolution of the Smithsons approach to this everyday art of inhabitation It does this by extensively documenting most of their designs for individual dwellings especially their optimistic House of the Future of 1956 and the series of renovations of and additions to the fairy tale like Hexenhaus in Germany from the late 1980s onward Communities of Frank Lloyd Wright

Myron A. Marty, 2009 Despite the numerous studies of Frank Lloyd Wright's life and architecture little has been published about his life in relation to the communities that dominated his life Wright a fervent believer in individualism and an ardent advocate of democracy worked in communities throughout his career of more than six decades These communities which he led with unquestioned authority made possible his extraordinary productivity They also helped sustain his genius provided him with crucial social outlets and made it possible for him to remain a creative force outside the mainstream of American architecture until his death at age 91 Almost immediately after arriving in Chicago in 1887 Wright began working in the company of architects and draftsmen most notably Joseph Lyman Silsbee Dankmar Adler and Louis Sullivan In 1893 he opened his own practice in downtown Chicago and formed relationships with communities of young architects and draftsmen there Five years later Wright moved his venture to his home and studio in Oak Park Although his community of coworkers there was highly productive in 1909 he abandoned them his practice and his family turned his projects over to others and left for Europe with his mistress In the next twenty years he formed incidental communities wherever his work took him including Europe Japan California and Arizona while maintaining his base at Taliesin his home near Spring Green Wisconsin In 1932 after years of hardship Wright and his third wife Olgivanna founded the Taliesin Fellowship a community of apprentices and assistants Five years later the Fellowship began to spend winters at Taliesin West a camp he designed in Scottsdale Arizona When Wright died in 1959 his widow became the Fellowship's unchallenged leader and she remained so until her death 26 years later Marty's groundbreaking work is neither a biography of Wright nor a study of his architecture rather it is the story of his life in communities particularly the Taliesin Fellowship This study will be of interest to Wright scholars and enthusiasts architects architectural historians and architecture students Architecture + Design, 1985
