Constructing Professional Discourse Concepción Orna-Montesinos, 2012 This book explores the fascinating role that language plays in the construction of non verbal objects by mapping out the ontological meaning of the specialised concepts and the domain specific knowledge embedded in them In doing so it provides a comprehensive linguistic insight into the discourse of professional domain specific communities and hence into the communication practices and procedures of those communities In this respect the book offers a response to the claims made by many of the most influential applied linguists today such as Vijay Bhatia 1993 2004 John Swales 1990 2004 or Ken Hyland 2002 among others who have consistently defended the need for applied linguistic research into the textual generic and social perspectives on the under researched interrelatedness of the discursive and professional practices of a discipline Specifically this book provides readers with an integrative multi perspective approach to the study of professional domain specific discourses While it mainly draws on the tenets of genre theory and discourse semantics it also nurtures from the theoretical and empirical foundations of applied linguistics cognitive linguistics corpus linguistics and ontological engineering The book starts from the analysis of domain specific texts as final written products with specific lexico grammatical semantic and rhetorical features to later enquire into the written products as textual artefacts closely linked to the social context of production and interpretation of the text This integrative approach provides fresh new insights into the way the processes of writing are affected by the community specific institutional and socio historical circumstances in which domain specific texts are produced Exploring Noble Values of Local Wisdom An[d] Prime Javanese Culture to Strengthen the Nation Identity , 2011 Amerasia Journal , 2013

Traditional Dwellings and Settlements Review , 2008 Architecture Paul Oliver, Richard Hayward, 1990 This trenchant discussion of the state of architectural theory criticism and practice in the 1980s and 1990s follows on from Reyner Banham's seminal work of the 1960s At a time of extraordinary interest and debate on architecture this book provides an illuminating insight into the issues of the impact of electronic information technology on architecture and urban planning and why the energy crisis did not transform architecture in the direction of megastructures and did not halt the slide back into traditional styles Shelter and Society Paul Oliver, 1976-01-01 Shelter, Sign and Symbol Paul Oliver, 1980
