Musing with Confucius and Paul K. K. Yeo, 2008-07-20 The book is a manifesto or apologia for Chinese Christians It seeks to articulate how it is possible to maintain a Chinese identity and a Christian identity at the same time without capitulating to some western or other cultural model of Christian identity To be a Chinese Christian is to adopt a distinctive unique identity that owes much to both traditions but is sui generis Providing great resources for the construction of a Chinese Christian theology Confucius and Paul converge across a surprisingly broad front Yet the Christ of the Cross completes or extends what is merely implicit or absent in Confucius and Confucius amplifies various elements of Christian faith e g community virtues that are underplayed in western Christianity The Christ of God as found in Paul's letter to the Galatians brings Confucian ethics in the Analects to its fulfillment while protecting the church from the aberrations of Chinese history and while protecting China against the aberrations of Christian history in the west Chinese Christianity has something to give the church that needs to be heard China can develop its distinctive vision of Christianity for the sake of the church universal Chinese Christianity will have its global mission if it can find its own authentic Chinese Christian identity Insofar as that identity brings the best of the Confucian tradition into the Christian story it will help revivify global Christianity

A Korean Confucian's Advice on How to Be Moral Don Baker, 2023-02-28 Tasan Ch'ng Yagyong 1762-1836 is one of the most creative thinkers Korea has ever produced one of the country's first Christians and a leading scholar in Confucian philosophy Born in a staunchly Neo Confucian society in his early twenties he encountered writings by Catholic missionaries in China and was fascinated However when he later learned that the Catholic Church condemned the Confucian practice of placing a spirit tablet on a family altar to honor past generations he left the small Catholic community he had helped found and ostensibly returned to the Neo Confucian fold Nevertheless the Christian ideas he studied in his youth influenced his thinking for the rest of his life stimulating him to look at Neo Confucianism with a critical eye and suggest new solutions to problems Confucian scholars had been addressing for centuries A Korean Confucian's Advice on How to Be Moral is an annotated translation of Tasan's commentaries on the Confucian classic Zhongyong usually translated as The Doctrine of the Mean in which he applies both Confucianism and Christianity to the question of how to best develop a moral character Written as a dialogue with King Ch'ngjo r 1776-1800 these texts reveal how Tasan interpreted his Confucian tradition particularly its understanding of how human beings could cultivate morality while the king's questions illustrate the mainstream Neo Confucianism Tasan was reacting against Tasan challenged the non theistic standard insisting that living a moral life is not easy and that we need to be motivated to exert the effort necessary to overcome our selfish tendencies He had abandoned his faith by the time he wrote these commentaries but influenced by Catholic works and determined to find a more effective way to live a moral life than non theistic Neo Confucianism provided Tasan constructed a Confucian philosophy of moral improvement centered on belief in God This translation helpfully annotated for context and analysis is an exploration of early Korean engagement with the West and a powerful guide to all those interested in Confucianism Christianity and morality

Keenan,2011-04-30 Approximately fifteen hundred years after Confucius his ideas reasserted themselves in the formulation of a sophisticated program of personal self cultivation Neo Confucians argued that humans are endowed with empathy and goodness at birth an assumption now confirmed by evolutionary biologists By following the Great Learning eight steps in the process of personal development Neo

Confucians showed how this innate endowment could provide the foundation for living morally Neo Confucian students did not follow a single manual elaborating each step of the Great Learning instead they were exposed to age appropriate texts commentaries and anthologies of Neo Confucian thinkers which gradually made clear the sequential process of personal development and its connection to social order Neo Confucian Self Cultivation opens up in accessible prose the content of the eight step process for today's reader as it examines the source of mainstream Neo Confucian self cultivation and its major crosscurrents from 1000 to 1900 Journal of the American Oriental Society ,2003 List of members in each volume
