Becoming Native To This Place Wes Jackson

Robert Hirsch

Becoming Native To This Place Wes Jackson:

Becoming Native to this Place Wes Jackson, 1993 The New World this empty land dazzlingly rich in forests soils rainfall and mineral wealth was to represent a new beginning for civilized humanity Unfortunately even the best of the European settlers had a stronger eye for conquest than for justice Natives were in the way surplus people who must be literally displaced Now as ecologist West Jackson points out descendants of those early beneficiaries of conquest find themselves the displaced persons forced to vacate the family farmsteads and small towns of our heartland leaving vacant the schools churches hardware stores and barber shops In a ringing cry for a changed relation to the land Jackson urges modern Americans to become truly native to this place to base our culture and agriculture on nature's principles to recycle as natural ecosystems have for millions of years The task is more difficult now he argues because so much cultural information has been lost and because the ecological capital necessary to grow food in a sustainable way has been seriously eroded Where to begin Jackson suggests we start with those thousands of small towns and rural communities literally falling down or apart We have no money to pay for the process and little cultural awareness to support it but here are the places where a new generation of homecomers people who want to go to a place and dig in can become the new pioneers operating on a set of assumptions and aspirations different from those of their ancestors These new pioneers will have to set up the books for ecological community accounting If they dig deep enough and long enough urges Jackson a new kind of economy will emerge So will a rich culture with its own art and artifacts

Becoming Native to This Place Wes Jackson, 1996-10-01 Discusses a new farming economy grounded in nature's principles and located in dying small towns and rural communities

John Brown to Bob Dole Virgil W. Dean, 2006 From radical abolitionist John Brown to presidential candidate Bob Dole to visionary environmentalist Wes Jackson Kansas history is bursting with fascinating stories of individuals who made a difference to the nation and whose lives reveal much about our collective past Prominent Kansas historian Virgil Dean has gathered a distinguished team of writers Thomas Isern Craig Miner and others who have crafted incisive portraits of 27 notable men and women covering 150 years of Kansas and American history Here are agitators who moved their fellow citizens to action over political social and economic problems not only John Brown but also proslavery agitator William H Russell Mary Elizabeth Lease lecturer for the Farmers Alliance and Populist Party Gerald B Winrod aka the Jayhawk Hitler and Esther Brown who challenged segregation in public schools

Coming Into Contact Annie Merrill Ingram, 2007 A snapshot of ecocriticism in action Coming into Contact collects sixteen previously unpublished essays that explore some of the most promising new directions in the study of literature and the environment They look to previously unexamined or underexamined aspects of literature's relationship to the environment including swamps internment camps Asian American environments the urbanized Northeast and lynching sites The authors relate environmental discourse to practice including the teaching of green design in composition classes the restoration of damaged landscapes the persuasive strategies of environmental activists the practice of urban architecture and the impact of human technologies on nature The essays also put ecocriticism into greater contact with the natural sciences including elements of evolutionary biology biological taxonomy and geology Engaging both ecocritical theory and practice these authors more closely align ecocriticism with the physical environment with the wide range of texts and cultural practices that concern it and with the growing scholarly conversation that surrounds this concern

The Weekender Effect Robert William Sandford, 2011-02-01 Provocative passionate and populist RMB Manifestos are short and concise non fiction books of literary critical and cultural studies As cities continue to grow at unprecedented rates more and more people are looking for peaceful weekend retreats in mountain or rural communities More often than not these retreats are found in and around resorts or places of natural beauty As a result what once were small towns are fast becoming mini cities complete with expensive housing fast food traffic snarls and environmental damage all with little or no thought for the importance of local history local people and local culture The Weekender Effect is a passionate plea for considered development in these bedroom communities and for the necessary preservation of local values cultures and landscapes

Outback and Out West Tom Lynch, 2022-11 Outback and Out West examines the ecological consequences of a settler colonial imaginary by comparing expressions of settler colonialism in the literature of the American West and Australian Outback Tom Lynch traces exogenous domination in both regions which resulted in many similar means of settlement including pastoralism homestead acts afforestation efforts and bioregional efforts at belonging Lynch pairs the two nations texts to show how an analysis at the intersection of ecocriticism and settler colonialism requires a new canon that is responsive to the social cultural and ecological difficulties created by settlement in the West and Outback Outback and Out West draws out the regional Anthropocene dimensions of settler colonialism considering such pressing environmental problems as habitat loss groundwater depletion and mass extinctions Lynch studies the implications of our settlement heritage on history art and the environment through the cross national comparison of spaces He asserts that bringing an ecocritical awareness to settler colonial theory is essential for reconciliation with dispossessed Indigenous populations as well as reparations for ecological damages as we work to decolonize engagement with and literature about these places People, Land, and Community Nancy Jack Todd, 1997-01-01 Degradation of environment and community along with its economic causes has been the subject of much concern in recent years In this book some authorities in the field discuss the historical cultural social political and economic implications of this degradation and suggest citizen initiatives that may halt it A Green and Permanent Land Randal S. Beeman, James A. Pritchard, 2001 Once patronized primarily by the counterculture and the health food establishment the organic food industry today is a multi billion dollar business driven by ever growing consumer demand for safe food and greater public awareness of ecological issues Assumed by many to be a recent phenomenon that industry owes much to agricultural innovations that go back to the Dust Bowl era This book explores the roots and branches of alternative agricultural ideas in twentieth century America showing how ecological thought has challenged and changed agricultural theory practice and policy from the 1930s to the present It introduces us to the people and institutions who forged alternatives to industrialized agriculture through a deep concern for the enduring fertility of the soil a passionate commitment to human health and a strong advocacy of economic justice for farmers Randal Beeman and James Pritchard show that agricultural issues were central to the rise of the environmental movement in the United States As family farms failed during the Depression a new kind of agriculture was championed based on the holistic approach taught by the emerging science of ecology Ecology influenced the permanent agriculture movement that advocated such radical concepts as long term land use planning comprehensive soil conservation and organic farming Then in the 1970s sustainable agriculture combined many of these ideas with new concerns about misguided technology and an over consumptive culture to preach a more sensible approach to farming In chronicling the overlooked history of alternative agriculture A Green and Permanent Land records the significant contributions of individuals like Rex Tugwell Hugh Bennett Louis Bromfield Edward Faulkner Russell and Kate Lord Scott and Helen Nearing Robert Rodale Wes Jackson and groups like Friends of the Land and the Practical Farmers of Iowa And by demonstrating how agriculture also remains central to the public interest especially in the face of climatic crises genetically altered crops and questionable uses of pesticides this book puts these issues in historical perspective and offers readers considerable food for thought Harvesting the High Plains H. Craig Miner, 1998 Historian Craig Miner recounts the story of a former field hand whose joint enterprise with Wichita entrepreneur Ray Garvey created an agricultural wheat empire which still operates today Miner details the daily decisions the men made which led to their success as well as treating philosophical and historical questions about the relationship between agriculture and nature in a semi arid region Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR African American Environmental Thought Kimberly K. Smith, 2007 Examines the works of Frederick Douglass Booker T Washington W E B Du Bois and several other canonical figures to uncover a rich and vital tradition of black environmental thought from the abolition movement through the Harlem Renaissance Provides the first careful linkage of the early conservation movement to black history the first detailed description of black agrarianism and the first analysis of scientific racism as an environmental theory Reading Group Choices, 1997 Mark Kaufman,1997-02

Native Voices Richard A. Grounds,George E. Tinker,David Eugene Wilkins,2003 Native peoples of North America still face an uncertain future due to their unstable political legal and economic positions Views of their predicament continue to be dominated by non Indian writers In response a dozen Native American writers here reclaim their rightful role as influential voices in debates about Native communities These scholars examine crucial issues of politics law and religion in the context of ongoing Native American resistance to the dominant culture They particularly show how the writings of Vine Deloria Jr have shaped and challenged American Indian scholarship in these areas since 1960s They provide key insights into Deloria s thought while introducing some critical issues confronting Native nations Collectively these essays take up four important themes indigenous societies as the embodiment of cultures of resistance legal resistance to western oppression against indigenous nations contemporary Native religious practices and Native intellectual challenges to academia Essays address indigenous perspectives on topics usually treated by non Indians such as role of women in Indian society the importance of sacred sites to American Indian religious identity and relationship of native language to indigenous autonomy A closing essay by Deloria in vintage form reminds Native Americans of their responsibilities and obligations to one another and to past and future generations This book argues for renewed cultivation of a Native American Studies that is more Indian centered Virginia Environmental Law Journal ,2005 Minnesota Journal of Global Trade ,2001 Kansas H. Craig Miner,2002 Chronicles the history of Kansas from 1854 to 2000 discussing how specific people and events shaped the culture of the state Agriculture and Human Values ,2002 Seizing the Light: A Social History of Photography Robert Hirsch,2009 Contains images and commentary by hundreds of international artists Edible Estates Fritz Haeg,Diana Balmori,2008 The Edible Estates project proposes the replacement of the domestic front lawn with a highly productive edible landscape It was initiated by architect and artist Fritz Haeg on Independence Day 2005 with the planting of the first regional prototype garden in the geographic center of the United States Salina Kansas Since then three more prototype gardens have been created in Lakewood California Maplewood New Jersey and London England Edible Estates regional prototype gardens will ultimately be established in nine cities across the United States Edible Estates Attack on the Front Lawn documents the first four gardens with personal accounts written by the owners garden plans and photographs illustrating the creation of the gardens from ripping up the grass to harvesting a wide variety of fruits vegetables and herbs Essays by Haeg landscape architect Diana Balmori garden and food writer Rosalind Creasy author Michael Pollan and artist and writer Lesley Stern set the Edible Estates project in the context of larger issues concerning the environment global food production and the imperative to generate a sense of community in our urban and suburban neighborhoods This smart affordable and well designed book also includes reports and photographs from the owners of other edible front yards around the country as well as helpful resources to guide you in making your own Edible Estate
