Variable	Coefficient	Standard Error	t-statistic	p-value
Age of the head of household	0.05	0.02	2.50	0.01
Gender of the head of household (Male = 1, Female = 0)	-0.10	0.03	-3.33	0.00
Constant	1.50	0.10	15.00	0.00

The regression results indicate that the number of children in the household is positively related to the age of the head of household and negatively related to the gender of the head of household. Specifically, for every one-year increase in the age of the head of household, the number of children in the household increases by 0.05, holding all other variables constant. Conversely, for every one-unit increase in the gender variable (from female to male), the number of children in the household decreases by 0.10, holding all other variables constant.

Constant	1.20	0.10	12.00	< 0.001

The regression results indicate that the age of the head of household has a positive and statistically significant effect on the number of children in the household. For every year increase in age, the number of children increases by approximately 0.05. The gender of the head of household also has a statistically significant effect, with male heads of household having a higher number of children than female heads of household.
