From 15 to 40, my life in words. Jason W.

Harbolic, 2016-01-07 I began writing poems at the age of fifteen This was the time I was a fresh mind in middle school This collection of writing spans the time of my teenage years to now the age of 40 Things have changed so much in my life At one time I thought I knew it all Now I am sure I do not Writing was always my best way of expressing thoughts and feelings A way to show love a non violent way to show anger and a way to open someone's eyes to a problem that they just may not see They are an expression of the inner mind and an extension of the soul

KHAKI SMEAR 'Rock Rampant', Finding Liberty B. E. Baker, 2019-04-30 There are some wounds time just can't heal Brekka Thornton is headed for Olympic fame and glory until a car accident destroys all her plans She redirects her efforts toward conquering the business world with her brother Trig closing the door on her old life without a backward glance She's happy working with him hacking up companies and rearranging the pieces becomes a new way of life Until Trig confesses that he's moving to Atlanta For the first time

Brekka considers an experimental surgery that could restore the use of her legs. She doesn't want to be left behind, not again not by the one person she really loves. But is it worth the risk for a chance to walk again? Can Brekka accept her past and embrace her future? Or will her fear cost her everything that matters? Finding Liberty was a Quarter Finalist in the BookLife Prize. And Publisher's Weekly said that Finding Liberty has a serious emotional core. The story of two individuals recovering from injury and trauma and redirecting their lives is memorable. Baker's prose is warm, engaging, and fresh, and the voices of her protagonists are both distinctive and immediately captivating. Baker brings a unique and welcome level of depth to her primary characters. As such, their romance carries greater meaning and momentum. The leads are immensely sympathetic, and their chemistry is undeniable. How Green Was My Valley Richard Llewellyn, 2013-04-18 The international bestselling winner of the National Book Award and the basis for the Academy Award winning film directed by John Ford. Huw Morgan remembers the days when his home valley was prosperous, verdant, and beautiful before the mines came to town. The youngest son of a respectable mining family in South Wales, he is now the only one left in the valley and his reminiscences tell the story of a family and a town both defined and ruined by the mines. Huw's story is both joyful and heartrending, a portrait of a place and a people existing now only in memory. Full of memorable characters, richly crafted language, and surprising humor, How Green Was My Valley is the first of four books chronicling Huw's life, including the sequels Up into the Singing Mountain, Down Where the Moon is Small, and Green Green My Valley. Now the reader emerges from these tense pages, strangely aglow with sharing the happiness of the characters. The simplicity of the language and its delicately strange flavor give the book added charm. Chicago Tribune
