Distance Learning Kumar, Vive (k), 2012-08-31. With the ever increasing usage of distance learning programs in academia, the need for well designed automated systems has become vital to the success of open and distance education. Practical solutions should be discovered and disseminated to meet the software needs of instructors, academic researchers and software engineers. System and Technology Advancements in Distance Learning meets this need, outlining computational methods, algorithms, implemented prototype systems and applications of open and distance learning. It is targeted toward academic researchers and engineers who work with distance learning programs and software systems as well as general participants of distance education.

Multilevel Modeling Steven P. Reise, Naihua Duan, 2003-01-30. This book illustrates the current work of leading multilevel modeling MLM researchers from around the world. The book's goal is to critically examine the real problems that occur when trying to use MLMs in applied research such as power, experimental design and model violations. This presentation of cutting edge work and statistical innovations in multilevel modeling includes topics such as growth modeling, repeated measures analysis, nonlinear modeling, outlier detection and meta analysis. This volume will be beneficial for researchers with advanced statistical training and extensive experience in applying multilevel models, especially in the areas of education, clinical intervention, social developmental and health psychology and other behavioral sciences, or as a supplement for an introductory graduate level course.

Social and Emotional Aspects of Learning Sanna Jarvela, 2011-02-17. Social and emotional aspects of schooling and the learning environment can dramatically affect one's attention, understanding and memory for learning. This topic has been of increasing interest in both psychology and education, leading to an entire section being devoted to it in the third edition of the International Encyclopedia of Education. Thirty three articles from the Encyclopedia form this concise reference, which focuses on such topics as social and emotional development, anxiety in schools, effects of mood on motivation, peer learning and friendship, and social networks. Saves researchers time in summarizing in one place what is otherwise an interdisciplinary field in cognitive psychology, personality, sociology and education. Level of presentation focuses on critical research, leaving out the extraneous and focusing on need to know information. Contains contributions from top international researchers in the field. Makes MRW content affordable to individual researchers.
