Trench, 2014-08-15 This is a study of the effectiveness of Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis as Commanders in Chief during the Civil War It begins by comparing their backgrounds prior to assuming the Presidency then comparing their military strategies and command structures The final area of comparison is their involvement in the first military draft in American history Davis had extensive government and military experience but exhibited personality traits early on that later hampered his performance as a war time Commander in Chief Lincoln had very little experience but excelled at dealing with people Lincoln tried several staff arrangements before finally appointing Grant as General in Chief Davis changed his structure very little throughout the war Although he appointed Lee as General in Chief in the first year he lost his services by placing him in command of a field army Both faced strong challenges from a powerful governor over the draft Davis first tried to win over the governor then appealed directly to the people Lincoln publicly kept distant from the draft and worked behind the scenes Jefferson Davis, the President of the Confederate States and Abraham Lincoln, the President of the United States, 1861-1865 Mildred Lewis

Rutherford, 1916 Lincoln & Davis Augustin Stucker, 2011-11 The story of Jefferson Davis and Abraham Lincoln is the story of the United States and without either of their lives and influence we would not be the nation we are today They were born within 9 months and 100 miles of each other in Kentucky log cabins Their parallel lives from that point forward were eerily similar in spite of Davis remaining a life long Southerner and Lincoln moving to and settling in Illinois Each man had cold emotionally distant fathers both lost their first loves to disease within one month of each other married strong Southern women much younger than themselves and lost young sons while Presidents of the Union and the Confederacy Both men were ambitious and drawn to the world of politics where Davis an ardent slaveholder and state rights leader and Lincoln seeking to limit and eradicate slavery worked tirelessly to avoid Civil War up to the moment of Southern secession Finally Lincoln and Davis were each considered martyrs after leading their nations through the conclusion of the Civil War This is their compelling story including comparing the stark political events of their era to those being replayed across today s America For more information about the book and or the author please visit www.astucker.net

The Two American Presidents Bruce Chadwick, 1999 In this the first dual biography of the two leaders Bruce Chadwick argues that one of several reasons why the North won and the South lost can be found in the drastically different characters of the two presidents The electric and flexible personality of Lincoln enabled him to build coalitions among warring political factions and become one of the strongest and most successful presidents in U S history The inability of the uncompromising Davis to do the same contributed to the South s losing the war This is the first comprehensive study to compare the two leaders and to reach firm conclusions about the war that transformed the United States from a slave empire into a model of democracy for the world Many books have been written about both Lincoln and Davis However by contrasting the lives and presidencies of both men the author provides a fascinating new perspective of the two leaders during the most volatile period in American history
