Exploring Ethnography of Outer Space Jenia Gorbanenko, David (Jeeva) Jeevendrampillai, Adryon Kozel, 2025-01-31 This book explores new methods and perspectives in the anthropology of outer space For the past ten years scholarship of outer space has grown significantly in the social sciences Now an international community of anthropologists is starting to produce significant contributions to this work This is pushing the conversations around the future of humanity technology and outer space beyond the realm of speculative theory into concrete challenges to established norms within anthropology Each chapter in this volume introduces a unique take on what constitutes an ethnographic field in anthropology They signal a re imagination of the central concept for the discipline and offer a timely meditation on the shift in anthropology's understanding of fieldwork from its inception until now The volume consists of eleven ethnographic chapters plus an introduction by the editors and two invited responses Each of the main body chapters presents a distinct approach to situating outer space empirically on Earth By bringing together emerging and established scholars this book ultimately posits that an anthropological approach to outer space requires creative approaches to ethnography that are no longer exclusively premised on a co presence with the people under study A primer of innovative ethnographies and an ideal companion to courses on methods this volume will provide students with a body of accessible contemporary work on futurisms and outer space In addition this book will serve as a snapshot of a moment in ethnographically innovative anthropology that will be relevant to a wider academic audience through its exegesis

of new methods for the study of distributed communities The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives ShareAlike CC BY NC SA 4.0 license

Centering the Margins of Anthropology's History Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2021-05 Centering the Margins of Anthropology's History circles around the conscious recognition of margins and suggests it is time to bring the margins to the center both in terms of a changing theoretical openness and a supporting body of scholarship

Practicing Ethnography Lynda Mannik, Karen McGarry, 2017-11-20 Building on the studying up trend in anthropology this book offers a theoretically informed guide to ethnographic methods that is also practical in approach and reflects the challenges and concerns of contemporary ethnography Students draw from vignettes situated within North America to learn how various methods work in the real world and how ethnography informs contemporary anthropological theory Exercises and assignments encourage students to practice these methods in a familiar context and a sustained focus on visual methodologies offers coverage not found in other books The result is a text that discusses both practical and theoretical issues in contemporary ethnography while equipping students with a set of transferable skills

Action Research Ernest T. Stringer, Alfredo Ortiz Aragón, 2020-08-26 Action Research is an invaluable guide to both novice and experienced researchers from a diversity of disciplines backgrounds and levels of study for understanding how action research works in real life contexts The Fifth Edition builds on the experiences of the authors by acknowledging the dramatic changes taking place in our everyday lives including developments of social and digital media that have become central to modern life Author Ernest T Stringer and new co author Alfredo Ortiz Aragón aim to provide a meaningful methodology arising from their extensive field experience for both students and practitioners Presenting research that produces practical effective and sustainable outcomes to real world problems Action Research helps students see the value of their research in a broader context beyond academia to effecting change on a larger scale Additional resources can be found at the authors website
