Burden Time Fugitives Agrarians Princeton:

Transatlantic Renaissances Kathryn Stelmach Artuso,2013 The impulses that fired the Southern Literary Renaissance echoed the impetus behind the Irish Literary Revival at the turn of the twentieth century when Ireland sought to demonstrate its cultural equality with any European nation and disentangle itself from English imposed stereotypes Seeking to prove that the South was indeed the cultural equal of greater America despite the harsh realities of political defeat economic scarcity and racial strife Southern writers embarked on a career to re imagine the American South and to re invent literary criticism Transatlantic Renaissances Literature of Ireland and the American South traces the influence of the Irish Revival upon the Southern Renaissance exploring how the latter looked to the former for guidance artistic innovation and models for self invention and regional renovation While Deleuze and Guattari s model for minor literature refers to minority or regional authors who work within a major language for purposes of subversion Artuso modifies their term along generic and thematic lines to refer to errant female juveniles within subsidiary genres whose nonconformist development threatens to disrupt the dominant patriarchal culture of a region or nation Using the themes of initiation and maturation to anchor the book Artuso analyzes how the volatile development of young women in revivalist texts often reflects or questions larger growth pangs and patterns including the evolution of the literary revival itself and the development of a regional minority group that must work within a dominant culture language and nation while seeking methods of subversion With minor literature as the container for undervalued genres such as popular fiction and short stories often considered an author s juvenilia this work investigates not only how these texts challenge the authoritative claims of the novel but also scrutinizes the renaissance trope of female rebirth as the revivalists often figured cultural national or regional regeneration through the metamorphoses or maturation of female protagonists such as Cathleen n Houlihan Scarlett O Hara and Virgie Rainey Drawing upon New Historical New Critical and postcolonial approaches Artuso examines works by Lady Gregory Margaret Mitchell Eudora Welty Elizabeth Bowen Jean Toomer and James Joyce Look Homeward David Herbert Donald,2002 A portrait of an American novelist examining the forces of his life that were intertwined with his writing and the academic and literary worlds of which he was a part

love for the nation was more often than not troubled and angry Warren once remarked that any intelligent person is inclined to criticize his country more strongly than he will criticize anything else And he should It s a way of criticizing himself too Trying to live more intelligently and more fully In The American Vision of Robert Penn Warren a noted Warren scholar traces the evolution of our first poet laureate s distinctive stance toward the American experiment in democracy showing how Warren sought to balance off the claims of self and society in the New World This book surveys the full six decades of Warren s career combining close reading with a historian s eye for social and political context While pointedly avoiding the reductive pitfalls of the new historicism Clark documents the informing role the Great Depression played in shaping Warren s attitudes toward art and politics and he demonstrates the necessity of regarding Warren s major achievements in fiction and verse as forms of public speech Read in this light Warren s vision offers a set of possibilities for renegotiating America s covenant with its Founders on new and pragmatic terms Based solidly on the best previous commentary on Warren and his work Clark s study represents a new approach to its subject and incorporates insights and information garnered from the Warren Papers at Yale A wide ranging account of the interplay between an author s imagination and contemporary history this book should prove of interest to all students of American culture especially those concerned with the interrelationships of literature politics and ideology Written in a lively and direct style it will appeal to specialists and general readers alike
