historical social cultural regional and global contexts Contributors address head on harmful stereotypes in Latinx representation while giving key insights to a positive path forward TV narratives by and about Latinx people exist across all genres In this century we see Latinx people in sitcoms sci fi noir soap operas rom coms food shows dramas action adventure and more Latinx people appear in television across all formats from quick webisodes to serialized big arc narratives to animation and everything in between The diverse array of contributors to this volume delve into this rich landscape of Latinx TV from 2000 to today spanning the ever widening range of genres and platforms Latinx TV in the Twenty First Century argues that Latinx TV is not just television it s an entire movement Digital spaces and streaming platforms today have allowed for Latinx representation on TV that speaks to Latinx people and non Latinx people alike bringing rich and varied Latinx cultures into mainstream television and addressing urbanization immigration family life language politics gender sexuality class race and ethnicity Once heavily underrepresented and harmfully stereotypical Latinx representation on TV is beginning to give careful nuance to regional communal and familial experiences among U S Latinx people This volume unpacks the negative implications of older representation and celebrates the progress of new representation recognizing that television has come a long way but there is still a lot of important work to do for truly diverse and inclusive representation

Divine Programming Charlotte E. Howell, 2020-03-02 From the mid 90s to the present television drama with religious content has come to reflect the growing cultural divide between white middle America and concentrated urban elites As author Charlotte E Howell argues in this book by 2016 television narratives of white Christianity had become entirely disconnected from the religion they were meant to represent Programming labeled family friendly became a euphemism for white middlebrow America and developing audience niches became increasingly significant to serial dramatic television Utilizing original case studies and interviews Divine Programming investigates the development writing producing marketing and positioning of key series including 7th Heaven Friday Night Lights Rectify Supernatural Jane the Virgin Daredevil and Preacher As this book shows there has historically been a deep ambivalence among television production cultures regarding religion and Christianity more specifically It illustrates how middle American television audiences lost significance within the Hollywood television industry and how this in turn has informed and continues to inform television programming on a larger scale In recent years upscale audience niches have aligned with the perceived tastes of affluent educated multicultural and importantly secular elites As a result the televised representation of white Christianity had to be othered and shifted into the unreality of fantastic genres to appeal to niche audiences To examine this effect Howell looks at religious representation through four approaches establishment distancing displacement and use and looks at series across a variety of genres and outlets in order to provide varied analyses of each theme
