

Linkedln For Dummies

From Linkedln For Dummies, 2nd Edition by Joel Eliaid

Signing on to Linkedln means you're part of the largest online professional network in the world. Look here for helpful guidelines for using Linkedln, especially when job searching. Linkedln helps you and create and maintain an online profile you can then use to build a professional network.

Cheat Sheet

How to Build Your Linkedln Network

The more you do, the more contacts you could have in your Linkedln network if you want to build and expand your Linkedln network, apply these steps:

1. Fill out your Linkedln profile.
2. Check for former colleagues and classmates who are on Linkedln by using specific Linkedln search tools.
3. Import your Outlook contacts.
4. Import your Webmail contacts.
5. Check for people who share a group or affiliation with you.
6. Go through your business cards for potential contacts and search for them on Linkedln. Send them an invite or Request to Join.
7. Search through your 1st degree network connections.
8. Advertise yourself through Linkedln Answers.
9. Use the People You May Know feature.
10. Meet people on Linkedln (through Linkedln Answers, Groups, Jobs, and People Search) and then invite them to your network.

How to Enhance Your Linkedln Profile

Your Linkedln profile page is your personal home page to the business world. To enhance your profile, log into your Linkedln account, click Profile, choose Edit from the top-left navigation menu that appears, then follow these tips:

- Create a customized URL. For example, you can set up your Linkedln profile to be found at www.linkedin.com/in/joel1iad instead of the default, which could be www.linkedin.com/in/4JPA678.
- Add as many past employers as you have had so the most amount of former co-workers can find you.
- Make sure your professional headline emphasizes any keywords you want to use to promote yourself.
- Make your profile public and set it to Full View so your Linkedln profile will show up in Web search results.
- Add links from your Linkedln profile to Web sites you are trying to promote, like your blog, e-commerce store, or company Web site.
- For Web site links that you add to your profile, select Other and rename each link to include meaningful keywords, so instead of it saying "My Blog" it would say "Joel's E-Commerce Product Blog."
- Include all of your main e-mail addresses in your profile so people can connect with you. Linkedln does not display your e-mail addresses to the public; they simply keep your e-mail addresses on file when someone tries to connect with you.
- Fill out the Summary field of your profile with all of your critical skills and important career-related keywords, and be sure to fill out the Skills section with your skill list as well.
- Add a professional photo to your profile (something classy).
- Add a link to your Linkedln profile in your e-mail signature file.

General Linkedln Tips

To make effective use of the functionality and advantages of Linkedln, to stay updated, and to enhance your professional life, keep these helpful Linkedln tips in mind:

- Start leaving recommendations for 1st degree network connections that you feel have earned a great one.
- Invest a good amount of time up front to create a great detailed profile.
- Spend a small but productive amount of time, on a consistent basis, to update and maintain your Linkedln network.
- Use lots of search terms in advanced search to find the right person. If you get no results, remove one or two words and try again.
- Research someone on Linkedln before meeting him or her in a job interview or business meeting.
- Do a reference check on any potential job hires using Linkedln before you make an offer to candidates.
- Get some free market research by posting a question on Linkedln Answers.
- Scan through your Network Updates to stay aware of what your network is doing.
- Use the Linkedln Status Update function (Share an Update) to keep your network apprised of your business.

Linkedln Job Searching Tips

Linkedln is a great way to help you use professional networking to job search. Here are some helpful hints when using Linkedln to look for employment:

- Make sure your profile is up-to-date, accurate, and matches whatever you provide to a hiring manager or recruiter.
- Stay on top of your Network Updates so you know if someone in your network has been promoted or switched jobs to a company where you would like to work.
- Use Advanced People Search to find 2nd or 3rd degree network connections that work at a desired target company. Request an introduction to that person and ask for advice or an informational interview.
- Advertise your skills and knowledge by answering questions posted in Linkedln Answers.
- Connect with everyone you have worked with, since these people know your professional capabilities well and could potentially recommend you on Linkedln.
- Make sure your profile highlights as many measurable accomplishments that you did at your jobs. For example, instead of saying that you "managed the sales force," it would be better if you stated that "I managed a 37% growth in revenue in the last four quarters."
- Do a search and connect with as many recruiters you can find that look for jobs in your target industry or job focus.
- Use Linkedln Company Pages to see which of your network connections works at a particular company, has recently been promoted at that company, and specific information about the company that you need for your cover letter and interview.
- Don't forget to use Linkedln's job board. Currently, there are millions of postings available when you search the Web on Linkedln's job board.
- If you find and apply for a job using Linkedln's job board, see if the job poster is someone in your extended network. If so, ask for a referral or introduction to that person so you can connect with him or her and make a great impression!
